Revival Services at Centenary Methodist Church, Auburn-dale Arouse Considerable Interest

The Revival Meeting conducted at Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, beginning Feb. 20 and closing Feb. 27, attracted consistently large congregations and made a deep impression upon the entire community.

In spite of the stormy weather and had conditions of roads and walks the attendance did not fall below two hundred at any service, and several times the church was filled to capacity.

Dr. Henry Hallam Saunderson of Boston preached the opening sermons, Sunday, Feb. 20. His subjects were "The Divine Surprise" and "Christ's Word of Power." Dr. Saunderson returned to participate in the closing service, Sunday, Feb. 27. He is a welcome visitor in the Centenary pulpit, having presented his message there on several occasions.

Dr. Ralph S. Cushman, noted pastor of Asbury Church, Rochester, New York, began his preaching ministry on Monday, Feb. 25, and preached at every service thereafter until the close. His messages were direct, compelling, and marked by typical Methodist fevore, "He steadily insisted upon the right of God to direct the lives of men and to work through them for the fulfillment of divine purposes. Stewardship was his constant teme. All that men have and are they owe to God. They have only a temporary use of the material things of life and they are under moral obligation to use them for the development of the spiritual life of all mankind. But Dr. Cushman's message did not rest with the laying upon his hearers of a heavy obligation. The inspiring doctrine of religious experience which has been typical of Methodist teaching from the days of John Wesley was held before the people each night. Man can be fully and vividly conscious of God's presence in the world and in the life of His earthly children. If man will only seek God he may find and know him, and have the consciousness of divine aid in the living of a true and righteous life. If man will only seek God he may find and know him, and have the consciousness of divine aid in the living of a true and righteous life. If man will only s

Brownell Appointed. Battery Prac-tice Starts Mrs. Aldelbert Fernald of Newton Re-Elected State Regent.

Announcement was made this week of appointment of Clifford C. Brownell, director of physical education of the Newton schools, as coach of the baseball team this spring to succeed the late "Allie" Dickinson. The appointment is but temporary, however, and Mr. Brownell will be forced to lay aside some of the plans he was formulating for this spring in order to carry on the work. No effort has been made or will be made for some months to obtain a permanent successor to Mr. Dickinson and when this is done it is highly probable that one man will not assume charge of both baseball and football. In recent years it has been the aim of the local authorities to have coaches who are also on the teachers' staff and it is the ultimate aim to have a teacher-coach for each different sport.

Brownell is a graduate of the Oswego Normal Training school, Columbia University and of the Graduate School of Physical Education of Columbia where he received a doctor's degree last June. During his high school and undergraduate career he was prominent in athletics and won letters in football, baseball, and bass ketball. While at Columbia University a few years ago he was the varsity scatcher on one of the Columbia's best

While at Columbia University a few years ago he was the varsity catcher on one of the Columbia's best nines which was coached by Andy Coakley, former Philadelphia pitcher. He has also played some professional baseball with minor league teams in New York state. In addition to having participated in actual competition he has also had some experience as a coach in all branches of athletics in one of the smaller high schools so that with fair material he should produce a team for Newton that will stand among the best.

John L. Sullivan, graduate of Rhode Island State College and an instructor in the vocational department of the high school, will assist Mr. Browneil this spring. Mr. Sullivan is also a former athlete of high calibre. While at college Sullivan was not only a three-sport star but was also cap of three different varsity teams, football, baseball, and basketball.

first scene representing the return of colonel Johnson to the grill room of the Newton Hunt Club.

The club quartet, D. Brewer Eddy, Richmond Bostwick, Arthur H. Burdick and Elbert L. Tenney, attired as waiters rendered several excellent numbers before the club members arrived. The Hunt club in brilliant red coats, white trousers and black legged boots brightened up the stage, and sang the Hunters' chorus in splendid fashion. In fact the chorus work of the evening was far above the average. The president of the club (Fred M. Blanchard) explained that the meeting was to welcome Colonel Johnson (Robert A. Nagle) and made two false starts, the first when Howard Earlie, came in as Michael O'Hare and the second when Edward Whitten arrived as Louis Heinze. Earle did a fine piece of work in his representation of an Irishman and Whitten was not far behind as a typical German. These two gentlemen had solos and more or less repartee before they subsided. Mr. Nagle appeared in uniform and his opening song, a drinking song by the way, gave him an opportunity to display his excellent voice. The rest of the part consisted of persons whom Colonel Johnson had brought back with him from the war, and included C. H. Bowman as a Chinaman, W. P. Fowler as a French dancer, William E. Cooper as a Salvation Army lassie and Dr. Cecil Clark as Corporal Burke. Mr. Fowler made a hit in his costume as a French girl, with bare knees and rolled stockings, and a black and white striped gown. Dr. Clark gave his monologue amid shouts of laughter at his humorous sallies on incidents in the war.

During the intermission, Harold Billings and William B. Hanna gave a good black face sketch, Mr. Hanna concluding with an impersonation of Gus Williams.

Gus Williams.

The second part of the program was a typical black faced minstral show, with Mr. Blanchard, as interlocutor in a stunning costume of white flannel. The chorus was in red coats, and white trousers, while the twelve end men were dressed like bell-hops in green livery. The stage business of these end men, with tambourines was exceptionally good and showed the results of long and hard training.

Mayor Childs Disapproves of a Filling Station at Chesley Road and Beacon St.

Beacon street and Chesley road, Newton Centre, was vetoed by Mayor Childs last Friday. He gave as his easons for the veto "that public necssity and public convenience do not call for another gasoline station at Newton Centre."

In the Newton Graphic of Sept. 3rd, 1926, was an article relative to petitions received by the Board of Aldermen on August 25, 1926. One of these petitions asked for a permit for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Union and Beacon streets; the other petition asked for a permit for a filling station at the corner of Chesley oad and Beacon street. COLLEGE VARSITYS TO OPEN GYM a few more points as they have made fast time in nearly all their races.

Coach Enoch has a well-balanced team which has failed to come through On Saturday evening, March 12th, at 7:30 p. m. there will be a grand exhibition of basketball and public opening of the new athletic plant of the Newton high school in the new gymnasium of the administration building. The entire program which is in the general charge of head basketball coach Raymond A. Green assisted by Mr. Clifford L. Brownell, athletic director of the Newton public schools has been arranged as a climax to the extended program of intra-mural basketball which recently drew to a successful close.

This game, which will be the last of the season for the Crimson, has been made possible through the efforts of Francis L. esy of athletic directors William Bingham of Harvard and Houston of Tufts. In order to provide seating capacity for the many fans who will desire to take in this game portable bleachers are being erected to seat 1000 and it is expected that they will be taxed to the utmost. Many out of town people will be on hand as it is the first college game to be played in a school court in Greater Boston. The high school band will play under the direction of Mr. Spaulding.

Preliminary to the big game there will be two games between teams selected from the best players in the intra-mural and interclass games of the past three months to show the public the development of the sport at Newton in the first season since 1912. Basketball as a sport is one of the most popular games and in Newton is one of the least known because of the fact that there has been no real participation in it for a number of years. Once it is established in the city schools the interest will increase and it is to this end that the high school authormes are planning this big attraction.

Among the battery candidates who reported to Coach Mitchell of the Harvard baseball team on Monday was Howard Whitmore, former star twirler at Newton high and one of the foremost of the Harvard freshman staff last spring. It is doubtful whether the Newton boy will be used in the more important games with several veterans of last year's staff back but with three more years ahead of him it is more than likely that the Newton youth will be among the leaders before getting through.

When the remainder of the varsity squad reports next Monday it is expected that Bill Ellison, captain of the hockey six, will report for an outfield berth. If he can regain his batting eye he will most likely win the position-left vacant by the graduation of Captain Todd of last year's nine.

The hit of the show was the song and grotesque dancing of Stanley Kimball, it didn't seem possible that legs and arms could be made as ridiculous as Mr. Kimball made his behave. He was the only person honored the first night with a double encore and it was fully deserved.

The length of the show evidently cut down the usual number of alleged jokes, altho the few which were perpatrated were fairly good and some were new.

As has already been said, the chorus work was excellent and showed the careful training of the director, Mr. Frederick B. Munro.

An interesting feature of the first night was the presence of 40 boys and girls from the Perkins Institute for Blind and about an equal number of young ladies from the Newton Hospital Training School for Nurses.

There was dancing after each performance.

Leathers, Executive Secretary of our Newton Y. W. C. A. An invitation is extended to all those, who would be interested in being with us on these special occasions, or any other Monday evening. The Club meets each Monday at 6:30 for supper, which is followed with a varied program.

followed with a varied program.

The success of the two comedies,
"Mr. Bob" and "Enter Dora—Exit Dad," presented by the B. T. C. can be determined by the number attending the performances last Friday and Saturday, for the hall was filled both evenings. A vote of thanks is certainly due the committee in charge of these plays, which was headed by Miss Harriette M. Hudson, Treasurer of the Club.

Last Monday evening, "Mr. Bob" was presented at the Florence Crittenton Home in Brighton, as a part of the Club's social service work.

On Saturday, Feb. 26, at 5:00 o'clock p. m. at Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, Mr. Milton Fifield Hall and Miss Velma Rickels of Geneva, N. Y., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed jointly by Dr. Ralph S. Cushman, formerly Miss Hall's pastor at Geneva, N. Y., and Rev. Earl E. Harper, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Nelson Freeman played the wedding marches on the pipe organ and played soft strains during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left immediately for a wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in an apartment at the Nye Park Inn, Auburndale.

EDITORIAL

While we are absolutely opposed to any form of annexation with the city of Boston, there is ample room for some form of co-operation between the 40 municipalities comprising Metropolitan Boston. We can see no good reason, for instance, why the local police in each city or town should not be given jurisdiction throughout the district, while retaining to each municipality the power of appointment, as at present. Other examples of co-operation might also be cited, and we can see no harm whatever in the proposed conference over Metropolitan conditions.

of illness Mr. Sullivan was not present so Coach Brownell and Captain John Proctor looked the candidates over. Among the leading twirlers to report were Sam McCleary and Don Wilson, first string pitchers last year, on whom the bulk of the work will probably fall this season. Newt Hanscom, another of last year's staff, was not out but it is expected that he will report shortly.

Newton high should be well set for catchers this spring in spite of the loss by graduation of Tom Gilligan. The four leading boys who were out yesterday were Spain, Art Wilson, Mickey Monahan, and a lad named Gore, who is said to have caught for the Brookline intermediate team last year. Spain is somewhat heavier than last season and should be able to handle McCleary's shoots without difficulty. Wilson, who showed well at times last year, and Monahan, another last year's substitute should make strong bids for the berth. Gore, who proved to be one of the best basketball payers uncovered during the intramural series just completed is rather light but if his footwork as a catcher is as good as on the basketball floor he has a fine chance of making the grade.

WHITTREDGE GARAGES

The snappy appearance of Whittredge Garages on exhibition at the Boston Auto Show sets a standard of progress in the housing of automobiles. Noncombustible materials were early recognized as essential in the construction of garages for the protection of the car and the home property. With the introduction by the Whittredge Portable Buildings Co. of West Lynn, Mass., of attractive designs in metal garages this type of garage immediately became popular.

Whittredge Clapboard Garages, after painting, rival the best wooden garages for good looks, in addition to being fireproof, strong and durable. They are tight, dry and easy to heat. Hundreds of Whittredge Garages have been erected in the best residential neighborhoods all over New England. They increase the value of the home property and are a convenience no home owner with a car and a vacant plot back of the house should be without.

Sixty members attended the weekly Kiwanis meeting at Auburndale on Tnesday noon. The club, under the direction of Rev. Earl Harper, performed in its usual creditable manner in singing the Kiwanis songs. Rev. Harry H. Hall of Allston urged the members to attend the joint meeting to be held by the clubs of the 5th Kiwanis district at Elks Home, Boston, on March 7th.

New members introduced were Clifford Hunting of the Winn Sign Shop, and Dr. Harry Lanergan. Information was given that Kiwanian al Walker, who has been seriously ill at the Newton Hospital, is improving. William E. Cahill spoke on the Big Brother movement which Kiwanians are sponsoring. Others who spoke on the social welfare work of the Kiwanis were Joseph Coppinger and Robert Vachon. W. In this lecture conventional the ology with its ironclad dogma and bigoted views of good and evil is brought under searching analysis by Dr. Griggs.

The succeeding lectures in the course will deal with "The Protest Against Economic Wrong: Hauptmann's Weavers": "The Protest Against Time Seaving Solishwase."

The succeeding lectures in the course will deal with "The Protest Against Economic Wrong: Hauptmann's Weavers": "The Protest Against Time-Serving Selfishness; Isben's Brand"; "The Protest Against Making Criminals: Galsworthy's Justice"; The Protest Against Yielding to Fate: Calderon's Life is a Dream."

Dr. Griggs has neither cult nor sect nor institution behind him. A university graduate, a student and traversity graduate, a student and traversity graduate, a winning teacher—the process of the property of the man bring conviction. He fills Town Hall in Manhattan and Tremont Temple in Boston each year. Dr. Griggs is no dreamer. His words hit hard. The polse and clarity of the man bring conviction. He makes you think and you like it. When has finished you look at your watch and are astonished.

construction of a new City Hall.

The report covers three possible schemes, first a building on the present site of the police and court room building on Washington street, West Newton, enlarged by taking present business property at the corner of Washington and Waltham streets. Second, a building on the same site with the area enlarged to take in all the land bounded by Washington, Cherry, Webster and Waltham streets. Third, a building or group of buildings on the Triangle site, bounded by Commonwealth avenue, Walnut and Homer streets.

The report states that a study has

The report states that a study has been made of the present conditions in City Hall and it finds that "the present working conditions are cramped beyond measure and in most cases it is surprising how the departments can function."

The report compares the present area of office space in City Hall, the estimate made by the company for the new building and comparisons with similar offices in several other cities. The present area is about 9000 sq. feet and the report estimates that 16,000 is required.

The building plans submitted can be used on all three sites. Schemes will call for a city hall unit in the centre of the building, with an aldermanic unit in a west wing and a police court unit in the east wing. The building has a central tower and is similar in appearance to the Town Hall in Weston.

The mayor's offices are on the second floor in the central tower. The offices of the City Clerk, Treasurer, Accounting and Assessors are on the first floor, the Street Department, Engineering and Buildings Department are on the ground floor, while the Water and Playground departments are on the second floor. The Health, Charity and City Physician are on the ground floor in the west wing and can be reached by a separate entrance. The aldermen have a commodious hall, accommodating 200 persons with a balson, seating 300 more.

The police department in the east wing has garage and patrol accommodations on the ground floor, with 16 cells for men and 8 for women, storage space for liquor and stolen goods and a revolver range. The department has commodious offices on the first floor, with accommodations, for 160 per provisions for the Juvenile court, judges room, clerks offices, probation officers and attorneys.

Scheme 2 calls for a building set back considerably further from Washington street than scheme 1 allowing a formal park in front, and land in the rear for a future auditorium, or library. The triangle site seems to appeal to the company which calls attention to the tendency of future growth to the south. They admit that due to water and soggy ground, there would be additional cost for foundations. They suggest a dominating City Hall, facing Commonwealth avenue and at the corner of Walnut and Homer a fire station and city garage is located.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Newton has always prided itself on

Newton has always prided itself on enjoying City Governments singularly free from the venality which, unfortunately, is all too characteristic of many municipal governments in this country—and other countries. Those citizens of Newton who have sacrificed their time and energy as members of the Boards of Aldermen of Newton, were accredited with doing so solely through a desire to serve their city and their fellow citizens. They received no salaries or emoluments.

In past years, with the exception, perhaps, of druggists' liquor licenses, pony express licenses, or public franchises, the aldermen granted no franchises, the aldermen granted no franchises or idenses which would confer on the grantees privileges assuring appreciable monetary advantages. The last few years have witnessed a change. The enormous increase in the number of automobiles in use, produced a resultant increase in the demand for gasoline and motor oils. Sidewalk filling stations which sufficed to meet the requirements of automobiles may obtain free air, free water and other conveniences. The big gasoline process where operators of automobiles may where operators of automobiles may succeeded by drive-in filling stations where operators of automobiles may conveniences. The big gasoline process where operators of automobiles may conveniences. The big gasoline process of the motor car era, have been succeeded by drive-in filling stations of a process of automobiles may obtain free air, free water and other conveniences. The big gasoline process of the motor car era, because of the reluctance of past Boards of automobiles in a process of the reluctance of past Boards of Aldermen to grant permits, Newton has been one of the most difficult to places around Greater Boston to obtain a permit for a gasoline station.

Last year's Board of Aldermen was Rumors started to circulate in this city last year in connection with the granting of these permits. Those who know the men composing the Board of Aldermen, and who are close in touch with affairs at City Hall were firmly convinced that the rumors were false. But Mayor Childs in his inaugural address this year, referred to these ru dress this year, referred to these rumors, and asserted "that in the futur permits for gasoline stations shou only be granted to those who intende operate such stations as part of eir regular business." Even though it was not his intention, he placed the aldermen in a very embarrassing position. It is a question whether any serious attention should be given rumors. The Mayor himself has been the target of plenty of rumors, which have not been taken seriously by fair-minded people.

Following the last regular aldermanic meeting, a Boston newspaper printed an article referring to the action of the aldermen at that meeting in connection with hearings on certain petitions for gasoline station permits. In this article were comments on the absence of Aldermen Leahy from the meetings of the License Committee at which these petitions had been discussed. The comments were not exactly complimentary to Alderman Leahy. In fact they tended to place him in a rather embarrassing position. In justice to him, it should be stated "that the reason he did not attend the committee meetings was because he was ill in bed with rheumatic lumbago." In a subsequent issue, the paper which had printed the adverse reference to Mr. Leahy, contained a small item explaining the reason for his non-attendance. Before uncomplimentary remarks or paragraphs are spoken or written about persons, particularly persons in public life, those who criticise should be sure they are stating facts, not rumors, or conjectures.

Tuesday we went to the water reservation at Needham, and after having been provided with a rubber suit and hat by Foreman Jerry Herlihy of the Water Department, we descended down a manhole into the wooden conduit which employees of the Water Department have been cleaning for the past few weeks. This conduit is about 15 feet under the surface of the ground and is 4 feet square. It is 4000 feet in length, and the ground water seeping into it largely furnishes the supply for Newton. During the 37 years this conduit has been built, it has been gradually filling with sediment, mostly composed of Crenothrix. The sediment in the conduit was supposed to be the chief cause of the discoloration in Newton's water the past few years.

The work of cleaning the conduit has been practically completed, but quicksand which is entering near the end of the conduit at Kendrick street, will perhaps delay the end of the job for a couple of weeks. It will be neessary to stop the quicksand, and this is a slow and difficult task. The process of cleaning the conduit under the conduit of the condui

The first "Annual Community Social" of the Auburndale Club, held on Tuesday evening of this week, proved to be a gala event. An hour of music by the "Dutch Girls" quintette under the leadership of Marjorle Possett provided a delightful entertainment. The "Dutch Girls" are already familiar to radio audiences, but their playing was even more melodious and appealing at close range. The colorful Dutch costumes made a picturesque tableau of the stage. Refreshments, dancing to the persuasive strains of Will Dodge's orchestra, and "Open House" with free bowling, billiards, pool, and cards, kept all parts of the Club House in use. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, the dancing was under the direction of Harry J. West, while the evening as a whole was arranged by the Entertainment committee, Stephten Wight, chairman, Bowling proved to be a popular feature, the men's prize being won by Edmund MacDonald, and the women's prize going to Miss Muriel Duffus.

Mr. Breed is an authority on this subject as he is a professor of surveying and has written many books on the subject. In fact he very kindly presented his listeners with one of his volumes as a parting gift. He made this difficult requirement seem very interesting, and the Girl Scout Leaders are very grateful to him for this generous gift of his time and knowledge.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. C. H. Keeler will be in charge of the always fascinating Quiz that is the program of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands at their Gulo of Newton Figuralians at their meetings, on their next date, Saturday, March 5th. Mrs. W. J. Bleknell, of 84 Erie Avenue, will be the hostess on that day. The third act of "Timon of Athens" is the play upon which Mrs. Keeler's Quiz is based.

Christian Era Study Club

The Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale has been having the interesting study of the War of the American Revolution for its year's program, surely a most timely review with so many cities of the early colonies holding centennials and sequi-centennials. For their next meeting on Monday, March 7th, Mrs. H. E. B. Case will read a paper on "The Alliance of France, in 1778," and Mrs. Belden and Miss Ella B. Smith will also contribute to the program. The hostess for this meeting will be Mrs. Nathaniel L. Grant, of 206 Melrose Street.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Continuing its consideration of "King Lear," the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands will meet on Monday, the 7th, at the house of Mrs. Lyman P. Briggs, of 38 Aberdeen Street, when two of the four Club members responsible for the presentation of this play will give their program in whatever method they have planned—perhaps as a surprise. Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson, and Mrs. Andrew B. Wright are the ones to arrange this meeting.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Francis A. MacDonald, a director of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, is chairman of their evening's program on Monday, March 7th. On that evening, at 7:30, in the Club Room of Emerson School Building, there will be the usual business meeting to be followed by a Pie Social. This is a most delightful idea, and one that should make for much friendliness and amusement. Club members arrive with pies, then these are given as prizes to the lucky ones who win in the various games indulged in. To enter these games members pay a fee, which goes into the general fund, in this instance, for the benefit of the Club. So that profit and pleasure, as well as contributions to the household pantry become the three worthwhile results of this Social. Best of all, the meeting is an OPLN one, and all who desire to partake of this round of merriment will be gladly welcomed. Mrs. Francis A. MacDonald, a direct

auburndale Review Club

"The Unique in America" is the general title of the Interest-provoking program for members of the Auburndale Review Club at their meeting on next Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Austin Eaton, 246 Central street. Three papers coming under this general classification will be given by Club members. Mrs. Ernest F. Drew will tell of "Niagara Falls and Ausable Chasm"; Miss Eleanor Pinkham will tell of "Bad Lands, Prairies, and Llano Estacado (Staked Plains)"; and Mrs. William H. Medlicott will tell of "Dunes and Pictured Rocks."

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Those who were fortunate enough to be able to avail themselves of last week's program of the Boston Woman's Civics Club in the banquet room of the Hotel Brunswick, when representatives of the Boston press came with delightful talks upon their alms, and with even more delightful personalities to attract their audience, will be glad to know that the next meeting, on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30, March 9th, is also to be an open one, and members are told they may invite guests. Miss Grace H. Howes, the Club treasurer, has arranged this meeting, and will present Miss Alfrieda M. Mosher, the well-known secretary of Y. W. C. A., who will speak on "Adventures with 43 Nationallities," and Wr. Mah, who will tell of "Current Events in China." Mr. Mah should—and undoubtedly does—know his subject, and whereof he speaks.

Social Science Club

"French Cameos" will be the subject of a paper by Mrs. Sidney Peterson at the next meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, March 9th. The business meeting opens at 10 o'clock at Hunnewell Club parlors as usual, followed by the program. Mrs. Henry H. Learned and Miss Margaret H. Aubin will be the hostesses.

ton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, March 10th. The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock at the Underwood School Hall. Dr. Carpenter's subject is "The Psychology of Weather," and considering the weather that has been our lot for the past few weeks, no more opportune explanation of it could be imagined. The lecture is to be illustrated, which always makes an address more interesting, although one wonders just what this term may mean in the present instance, as illustrations have certainly been available outdoors lately, whatever the ability to illustrate indoors may be. However, humor aside, such pictures and charts as a meteorologist of Dr. Carpenter's experience can bring for display, should be most interesting. He is a lecturer on Meteorology in the University of California, and manager of the department of meteorology and aeronautics of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He is a doctor of laws, a doctor of science, a fellow of the Royal Geographic and Royal Meteorological Societies, and of the American Meteorological and Balloon Pilot and is an author of a number of books on clouds, weather and aviation. To hear a person who has had the intense interest to delve into such a subject is always a delightful experience.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club, at its meeting February 24th, listened with interest to Dr. Abraham Myerson's address on "Inheritance and Environment." As has been previously announced, Dr. Myerson was born in Russia, but graduated from the English High School of Boston, and from Tufts College, where he is now Professor of Neurology, and as an author of several books on this subject he is a recognized authority in his line.

The speaker likened heredity to the block of marble, the environment forces to the chisel which fashions something; and he brought out forcibly the point that environmental forces work throughout the entire life of the individual, while the hereditary influence affects the individual only at the very beginning of his life. Dr. Myerson made the statement that every parent attempts to create his child in his own image, impressing him always with his own ideas and prejudices. Instead, every parent should seek to put away his own egoism and ask "what native qualities has the child that can be developed at advantage," is Dr. Myerson's belief. "The parent fosters the qualities he likes by praise and reward, and represses qualities he does not like by blame and punishment, but the child's tendency to imitiate makes it true that the parent is the greatest environmental force in the life of the child. Every individual drinks in ideas, prejudices, and emotional attitudes from everyone he meets, from the beginning to and emotional attitudes from every-one he meets, from the beginning to the end of life."

Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, a member of the Club, delighted her audience with three songs, all expressing the spirit of spring.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Four years ago the operators of anthracite coal mines jumped the prices of those sizes of coal generally used. An appreciable increase was given to nut, stove and egg coal on the allegation that a large amount of wastage resulted in making these sizes from the coal after it came from the mine. The tiny pieces of coal made in the process of breaking are graded into two sizes, pea and buckwheat. The owners of the coal mines contended that they were unable to market these small sizes, hence they must obtain more for the larger sizes. In late years the coal operators, as a result of extensive advertising and educational propaganda, have created a large and growing market for pea and buckwheat coal. The demand has grown so for these two sizes, that this winter retail coal dealers could not obtain supplies of either pea or buckwheat when their customers called for them. This shows that the reason advanced four years ago by the mine owners, cannot now be given. But have the Pennsylvania anthracite magnates reduced the prices on nut, stove and egg coal? They have not. And nates reduced the prices on nut, stove and egg coal? They have not. And and egg coal? They have not. And they will not; unless pressure is brought to bear upon them. It would be fatuous to expect that this pressure can be brought through legal channels. The only effective way to compel the anthracite barons to give the public a square deal is,—use bituminous coal.

At the reception given by the Mayor and School Committee to the teachers in the Newton public schools, Mr. Grosvenor Calkins referred to Charles Read, the donor of the Read fund. It is over 40 years since Mr. Read died, so to some of the present day residents of Newton his name does not mean much. He resided near the corner of Washington and Saint James streets in Ward 7, about where the Hunnewell Apartments now stand, was a man of most frugal habits, who mingled little with his fellows, and who was supposed to be but moderately wealthy.

When he died and his will was probated, residents of Newton Corner were astounded to learn that their unassuming neighbor had left a fortune of considerably over half a million dollars, a very large amount for those days. Most of Mr. Read's wealth had been invested in United States bonds, which were not taxable. Hence the ignorance of Newtonians regarding his financial standing. In his will he bequeathed to this city a fund of $40,000. From the income of this fund enough was to be deducted to pay for perpetual care of the lot in Newton Cemetery where Mr. Read's remains were buried years eloyed many more opportunities to travel than the "kids" of the sincern of the fund for a course of lectures at Newton Corner. The balance of the income from the fund was to be used for the assistance of poor widows in any part of Newton.

The Read Fund Lectures were given for many years in Eliot Hall, which was the largest auditorium in the city in the last generation. Usually they were librated selectures, and the kids of the sos and 90s got nearly as much thrill out of these lectures as the more content of the side of this jearned for the side of the son and 90s got nearly as much for the Sos and 90s and those long it was to be used for the assistance of poor widows in any part of Newton.

The Read Fund Lectures were given for the Read

By his thoughtfulness and generosity Mr. Read has perpetuated his name in Newton Corner. This good deed of his, like the good deeds of those former residents of this city who made generous bequests to our Free Library, Hospital and other public benefits, will live through the centuries to come. They are more enduring than monuments of stone or bronze.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

No doubt many readers were surprised to find themselves indicted by "Newtonville," whose letter in the Town Crier was reprinted by the Graphic last week. I find myself somewhat at a disadvantage at the very beginning in my feeble attempt to reply as I do not know if I should refer to the anonymous writer as "Mr. Newtonville," or "Mrs. Newtonville," acceptable as "Newtonville," it proves acceptable as "Newtonville," it proves acceptable as "Newtonville," it proves acceptable as "Newtonville," it is not him if he would call again, but he said nothing."

"Did you get his name?" asks the husband.

"I didn't have a chance," comes the reply.

his (or her) bill of particulars, "There is not much enlightenment in Newton."

The first charge made by "Newtonville" is that. "Newton has no public spirit." On the same page of last week's Graphic as "Newton hospital" this statement: "The response by friends of the hospital for contributions of volumes of poems for the Nurses' Home has been most generous." The Graphic also gives an account of the sale of Christmas seals for funds to fight tuberculosis, the total of which for Newton was $8,449. Then I read of the work of the Hospital Aid and its success in conducting a benefit shop. For my part I happen to know of a number of mem who are ready to give freely to philanthropies. I consider the members of the Board of Aldermen public spirited inasmuch as they have much to do and serve without pay.

What about the playgound system of Newton which has proved so successful that it has become known as a model throughout the country? What of our local government which makes men of understanding in other communities declare, "Newton has as clean a city government as any city in the country?" What of our organizations of business men, our flourishing clubs that posses only the highest ideals, our activities in behalf of the youngsters in the scout movements, our willingness to contribute to the maintenance of the Newton Hospital, the Red Cross and to the deserving charities?

"Public interests are not watched and protected," says "Newtonville."

the deserving charities?

"Public interests are not watched and protected," says "Newtonville."
Since when? Where is the evidence that we are doomed as a municipality, through the failure of our city officials, our representatives in the Gencourt, our newspapers and patriotic citizens?

"Newton to say "It."

"Newton is not literary; the people do not care for books and reading," ac-cording to "Newtonville's" assertion. What then do they do with the books they obtain from the free library or acquire by purchase? Are they mereacquire by purchase? Are they mere ly stage "props" and carried under the arm to impress their fellow citizens arm to impress their fellow citizens?

"There is not much enlightenment in Newton," says "Newtonville." Ah!
Now I will admit that I am stumped. I have been out of touch with our educational system but had every reason to suppose that it was still functioning. I had not heard that the several reading clubs of men and women whose names I know quite well had gone out of business? So far as I am aware the religious bodies are still gathering weekly for public worship and to listen to the words of their pastors.

I might go on but I find upon analysis that instead of citing specific cases these eight "points" made by "Newtonville" are almost similar except that different words are employed. If I agreed with the charges I should say they were indeed grave. But, unfortunately, I am among the unenlightened and cannot share this decidedly pressimistic outlook tunately, I am among the memigate ened and cannot share this decidedly pessimistic outlook.

What "Newtonville" says of New-ton may as easily be said of any com-munity on the face of the earth. You can convince yourself that everything is "all wrong" quite as easily as you can that everything is "all right." Neither is true. Where human beings live and strive to conduct themselves with respect for the church and the civic authorities you will find plenty to criticise, but you will also find much to applaud. If the struggle of the human race is any different in Newton than in other sections of the universe as far as results are con-cerned "Newtonville" has surely brought "enlightenment" to our blind-ed eyes.

cerned "Newtonville" has surely brought "enlightenment" to our blinded eyes.

Reform is always interesting. Usually the motive behind it is of the highest. But reformers, too, have their weaknesses. Their point of attack is somehow open to question. I believe that to be true in the case of "Newtonville." Here is no doubt an honest attempt to call attention to some conditions which are capable of improvement. But why demolish our whole social structure with this outburst of withering scorn? Is this indictment of "Newtonville" a picture of what the city of Newton has reached after all these years of existence? Have our clergy, our teachers, our public servants failed to this lamentable extent? Have we as a community been too weak and pleasure-loving to observe the precepts of our forefathers and the founders of all that is good and noble? Nonsense, "Newtonville," think it over.

Some people enjoy creating a mystery. Maybe that is a bit strong and perhaps it should be written that they seem to delight in stimulating the imagination of others. Anything that makes us think is said to be beneficial as long as the mind keeps in the proper channel. I still believe, however, the class to which I am about to refer are nothing short of "pests,"

They may protest that what I find so annoying is done quite unintentionally. Whether it is or not makes no difference to me. The fact remains that it is done and excuses, no matter how plausible, do not interest me. I refer to the men and women who call you by telephone and finding you are not there merely say, "Thank you" and hang up, leaving no clue to their identity.

I leave it to any of my readers who has experienced the perplexity of seeking to learn who the mysterious individual was who refused to give his name or to take advantage of a kindly offer to leave his number or give any message for the absent one. I have

Everybody who made out a State income tax blank this year must have discovered that instead of the customary oath they had only so sign their signature affirming the declaration that their statement had been made "under penality of perjury." They were no doubt delighted when they found they didn't have to hunt up a notary public or justice of the peace and go through the form of holding up the right hand and saying, "I do."

"I didn't have a chance," comes the reply.
"That's strange, "ou were talking with him, weren't you?"

The most patient wife is quite likely to resent the implication that she is stupid.

"How's that?" I asked.
"The law that does away with taking an oath to your income tax," came the returns that used to be brought in are now mailed to us. It is all due to the change in the law."

Just for my own personal with the reply and the properties of the change in the law."

Just for my own personal with the reply and the properties of the change in the law."

The most patient wife is quite likely to resent the implication that she is stupid.

"How could I when he hung up the receiver?" she demands.

"Of course you couldn't, but I wish after this you would try and find out when the talled—

"I did."

"Yes, yes, my dear, but try and find out all about the call next time before the man gets off the line."

If the wife is one of those women possessed of rare understanding she will let the matter drop then and there. If she isn't there is bound to be a joint debate, animated, acrimoious and unsatisfactory. No other reason for it than the mystery created by the individual who did the telephoning in the first place.

I will admit that the telephone is as convenience with which it would be impossible to live in these days. I will go further and say it is a blessing to mankind, BUT there are a lot of people who should be prohibited by law from using it.

It was with much interest that I learned that the act of the Legislature of 1926 to permit "dispensing with the oath as a method of verifying certain written instruments" was supposed the method of the change in the law."

Just for my own personal satisfactor. Just for my own personal satisfaction I decided to give the new law a little study. I found that it became least July. It does not apply, however, "to a judicial proceeding." That means the courts still require sworn oaths, which is quite to be expected.

I began to wonder then what documents apart from income tax returns of banks filed with the State Bank worm in out the state Bank worm and there are lawyers who do not believe in taking chances and who question the validity of the new law. These attorneys, therefore, insist that the old form of oath-taking be followed. Some reason that if the new law is a law unfamiliar with them I shall not a tempt to describe them.

It was with much interest that I learned that the act of the Legislature of 1926 to permit "dispensing with the oath as a method of the provided provided that the sum and the provided to provide the mean

It was with much interest that I learned that the act of the Legislature of 1926 to permit "dispensing with the oath as a method of verifying certain written instruments" was one reason of the smaller number of people at the offices of the State income tax officials throughout the commonwealth. I refer, of course, to hose who every year since the income tax law became operative have had to "go and have their returns sworn to."

Here is a condition, which, in my opinion, speaks for itself. It should be corrected. Perhaps there will be no more snow storms this winter. In that case we shall not look for reform. But there are certain to be next winter and in that case let arrangements be made that will make unnecessary all "kicking." In other words, this discriminating against pedestrians and in favor of automobilists has gone as far as it should—this year or any other.

The meeting of the aldermen on Monday night was full of fireworks. Franco-American for two pool tables at 297 Watertown street, and to Peter McAleer to move a house from the corner of Washington and Putnam streets to the corner of Lincoln park and Shāw street. This house will be moved over the B & A bridge at Putnam street, and along Margin street. As the loads which pass over the bridges are supposed to be limited to 14 tons, it would seem surprising that a permit was issued to move a house over the bridge. It is claimed that little of the weight of the building will rest on the bridge. The house will be jacked up on heavy timbers and rolled or long beams which will rest on another pile of ties on the opposite side of the bridge. The petition of Mignano Brothers for a common victualler license at 73 Union street, Newton Centre, was referred back to the License Committee.

DOLLAR DAY

West Newton Merchants Plan to Make March 19 a Notable Event

Much interest is being manifested in West Newton's big Dollar Day, to be held in that village on Saturday, March 19, under the direction of the West Newton Business Men's Asso-ciation.

More than forty merchants are preparing carefully for the event and their announcements next week and listings of Dollar Day bargains promise to be unusually interesting and attractive to not only the people of West Newton but throughout the city as a whole. Many other business men whose type of business does not lend itself readily to the Dollar Day plan are co-operating in other ways to make the first big stunt of the recently organized West Newton Business Men's Association the biggest sectional activity of a merchandising type ever conducted in the city. Within a few days West Newton

Within a few days West Newton Square and adjoining streets will be ablaze with Dollar Day publicity, including street and store banners and carefully arranged window displays of many descriptions. All of the general arrangements are in charge of a special committee which is putting forth every possible effort to cover every detail and to leave nothing undone that may help to insure the complete success of the event in every way.

done that may help to insure the complete success of the event in every way.

While a Dollar Day in itself is generally regarded as of sufficient attractiveness to meet all demands and expectations of a bargain seeking public, the West Newton merchants have arranged an additional feature that promises to make the coming Dollar Day on March 19 an occasion doubly attractive.

This is the "Half-Hour Sales" plan, through which twenty stores are to be allotted one-half-hour period each during the day when each store will present a super-special bargain, one item worth several times a dollar in most instances, which will be on sale only during the half-hour period assigned to each store. This is an advertising feature only, through which each merchant will make a substantial contribution to the publicity expense of the whole. A schedule will be published next week, indicating just where and when these bargains may be found during the day.

Alderman DeMille of Newton Centre was the first to take the floor when the discussion of the veto started. He remarked "that he disliked to differ with the Mayor in his first speech as an alderman, and while he quite agreed with His Honor 'that public convenience and public necessity do not require another filling station at Newton Centre, he wondered if the Mayor realized the alternative, should the permit for the station be refused?" Mr. DeMille stated "that we also have enough groceries, battery stations and other kinds of business at Newton Centre, but assuming that there may be too many filling stations for the needs of that locality, it will be better to have vacant filling stations, which do not obscure street corners, than vacant stores which do obscure the corners."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

oy oasketball tollowers from out of the city who attend the college games at the respective college courts.

Because of the fact that the high school has not been represented on the basketball floor by a team since 1912 interest in the popular winter sport has waned greatly. The introduction of intramural and interclass basketball this past season and the proposed renewal of interschool competition next winter at the high school will renew this interest noticeably. To this end the athletic authorities have planned an attractive program for tomorrow night. In addition to the college game which will undoubtedly be a first class contest there will be games between teams of schoolboys picked from the teams which played in the round robin series recently completed. These games will show the development made in the sport in the short space of the past few months. As an added attraction the high school band will furnish music.

The Newton High track team took third place in the annual state-wide track meet at the East Armory, Bost ton, last Saturday afternoon with a total of 15% points. Lawrence High and Dorchester high tied for the champlonship honors with 16 points each. The latter school was the "dark horse" and before the meet was not even considered a contender. It was Rogers of Dorchester who upset the dope in the standing broad jump taking first by a scant half-inch over Captain Waller and the standing broad jump taking first by a scant half-inch over Captain Waller and the standing broad jump taking first by a scant half-inch over Captain Waller and the standing broad jump taking first by a scant half-inch over Captain Waller and the standing wictory from the orange and black and giving the Crimson and Black a chance to share the title with the Lawrence the standard of the standard Newton in turn had a full point margin over Medford high mainly because of Fullerton's win over Marshall of Medford in the 45-yard low hurdles. Fullerton won the third heat and Cole took second in the second heat of this event. The semi-finals were won by Fullerton and Marshall with Cole placing third in the second. Both the winners equalled the record in their dash. Fullerton and Marshall were even going over the last fence in the final but the orange and black runner beat the Medford man by a foot in the final sprint to equal the record of 5.4-5 seconds for the second time.

Jimmy McCrudden staged a great race in the 1000 placing third and giving Newton two more ponts. Hammond's best in the high jump was 5 feet, 7.1-8 inches for a four cornered tie for third place and % of a point. Fullerton was expected to cop the broad jump without much trouble but a heel which had become bruised in the hurdle race was too much of a handicap for the Newton leader to overcome and his best was 9 feet, 8 inches for second place.

In the relay races Newton's guartet

In the relay races Newton's quartet of Cummings, Reynolds, Brewer and Reed was the fastest of them all. Their time was 2 minutes, 58 4-5 seconds. The orange and black team defeated Mechanics Arts, Brockton and Com-merce which finished in that order.

PLAYGROUND HOCKEY LEAGUE

The twelfth season of the Junior and Senior Boys' Ice Hockey League, conducted by the Playground Department at Bulloughs Pond and Crystal Lake, came to a close just before the last big snow storm. The purpose of this league is to draw into this wholesome sport as many of the boys of Elementary school age as possible. Many of the boys who have made in the past a reputation as High School and College hockey players received their first inspiration in the playground leagues. It is the belief of the Playground Department that in order to have good varsity players in the High School and at College, they must be started in the principles of the game during their elementary school years. This is the time for the development of fundamental skills needed in hockey play. It is also the time to develop judgment, lung and heart power.

Watertown Clinches Title
With two games to play and practically certain of winning at least one of these the Watertown Methodist basketball team in the church league has just about clinched the title. Tonight the Watertown team meets the Watertown Baptists and next Wednesday winds up its season against the Newtonville Methodists. Eliot and Needham will clash in the other game tonight while the Central Congregationalists and the Watertown Baptists will meet in the final game on Wednesday. The results of last week's games follow: Eliot 17, Central 11; Needham 37, Numees 25. On Monday night the Numees played off a postponed game with the Watertown Baptist five, winning 22 to 17. He was a member of the class of 1929 until illness at home forced him to resign. He came back to college this year, but was unable to participate until after mid-semester marks. In his school-boy days he was one of the fastest men in the short distances, and time did not seem to slow him up a great deal. After all the preparatory training is done, he will probably be an addition to the squad at Hanover, because he is most versatile, running the hurdles, dashes, or broadjump with equal ease.

Kevorkian May Pinch Hit
In the final call for baseball candidates at Brown, Edwin Kevorkian reported. Although more noted for his skill in football he still has a fair reputation as a baseball player. He played last year in the outer garden for the freshmen, and was a fast efficient fielder. This year his chances for being a regular are not so certain, for there is a wealth of material from which to choose the outer patrol, but he will be a good man to keep as a pinch hitter because of his ability to come through when it is necessary.

Nixon A Promising Pitcher
When the Dartmouth squad came out for practise John Nixon of Newtonville reported with the pitchers. He was kept along with the squad last year, and with this previous experience should be one of the Green's most dependable twirlers. He has a fast hook, with a fairly good change of pace, adding to these good fielding ability, and some skill with the bat he is a likely looking prospect.

Weeks' Career About Over
Cornell was shut out in the sprints at the Triangular meet week, but it might have been a different story if Howard Weeks had been able to run. The former Newton star is slowly recovering his health, but his chances of running again are very slight. While the team score was one-sided the individual matches were closely contested and hard fought all the way. Priscilla Brooks Star At Wheaton When the Wheaton basketeers took the girls from Jackson into camp, one Newton girl was starring in the process. Priscilla Brooks has played during all her years at the Norton school, and is one of the most adept at the game in the college. In all the games that have been played to date, she has shown an uncanny ability to cover her part of the floor, and the credit of the Blue's victories is due in no small measure to her skill. no small measure to her skill.

On Champion Team

Up at Holyoke they have recently completed the class basketball games which are the primary motives for their organizing such teams. On the Junior sextet, that is the champion of the college is Helen Clark, who has played guard for some years. She was a star at the High School, and continued to be such at Holyoke. She was all over the floor, causing the seniors to be slowed up in their attack, and also consistently helping her teammates shake free to score with close-up shots. On the Senior team was Barbara Ziegler also from Newton who was covering the centre court. She also was luminary at Newton, being one of the best girl athletes in her class. Although she is not a high scorer she is extremely capable at getting the tipoff, with the result that she is indispensable. She also is an expert when it comes to feeding the ball up to the forwards.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. Day Junior High School

F. A. Day Junior High School

The boys' basketball team played a return game with the High school Freshmen last Thursday. The game was won by the Junior High team by a score of 15-5. This avenges the defeat given by the Freshmen earlier in the year when the score was 16-11.

The game was very exciting throughout as was evidenced by the "noise" from the large crowd which watched from the side lines. Capt. Schipper, with his shots, kept every one excited, even his opponents. The passing was very well executed with scarcely any fumbling by either side.

Coach Simmons says: "The work of the boys was the best they have shown this year. I am well pleased with the continual progress they have made this season and I am sure they will develop into worth while players while in High School."

The girls' basketball team also upheld the honor of the school by winning a game from Watertown with a score of 15-14. Both sides played a clean game from start to finish. Not the least enjoyable feature of the game was the presence of Miss Larcom among the spectators. She has just returned from a trip to Florida and has an enviable coat of tan.

Mr. E. E. Whiting of Whiting's column fame, addressed the Assembly. His talk was full of interesting anecdotes of great people. They revealed not only the particular great man's characteristics but also gave evidence of the sense of satirical humor possesed by the narrator. He said that the reason many great men are prominent is because they utilize their spare time when they are young and make the most of their opportunities. This remark needs no explanation. We trust that the pupils of the F. A. Day appreciate their privileges and make use of them. And who knows? Someday a President may step from out their ranks.

At the eighth grade assembly on March 11, gifts were presented Mr. Heavens by the class and by the hockey team as tokens of their appreciation and affection.

"SEASCOUT SPRAY"

"SEASCOUT SPRAY"

A large number of requests and questions have been received asking for the requirements to become a Seascout and "What is Seascouting?"
Seascouting is the program of maritime or seamanship activities carried out by the Boy Scouts of America through its Seascout Department. It not only prepares a boy for emergencies on water and on land, but gives him a varied and interesting program of graded seamanship which develops his knowledge of the sea and its ways. In order to become a Seascout of the Boy Scouts of America a boy must be at least fifteen years of age and of good moral character. He must take the "Sea Promise," which is as follows:

lows:

On my honor, I will, as a scout and as a cabin boy, do my best,

1. To learn swimming and always be prepared to render aid to those in need in connection with water accidents.

2. To make it my practice to know the location of the life saving devices on every boat I board; and to mentally outline my responsibility in maintaining order for myself and shipmates in case of emergency.

of emergency.

To be vigiland and cautious, al-

dents.

4. To co-operate with the responsible authorities for the observance of all regulations for the conduct and safety of boats, and ever seek to preserve the motto of the sea, "Women and children first."

He must also pass the folowing tests:

tests:
1. Demonstrate his ability to tie all knots in the tenderfoot requirements.

*2. Demonstrate the proper method of wearing the life belt and using the the lifebuoy. (*Shown to new boys before joining.)

3. Read the article on the Sea history of the United States. (Seascout hard hook.) hand book.)

Having passed these requirements the boy is entitled to wear the uniform and insignia of an apprentice Sea-cout.

Questions of this sort are very helpful and are well worth printing. If you have any questions on Seascout-ing write to Mate A. C. Dinsmore, Seascout Headquarters, Watertown street, West Newton, Mass.

Mayor Childs has issued the following proclamation to the citizens of Newton, endorsing the work:

"The Near East Relief, which has been called 'the greatest philanthropy in history,' is about to launch a campaign in the city of Newton. Our city has always responded to the calls of this organization, but the committee of prominent citizens, who stand back of the campaign which is undertaken this spring, believe that with the resources of our city we can far exceed any assistance previously given to the Massachusetts branch of the Near East Relief.

"The wonderfully constructive proof the campaign which is undertaken this spring, believe that with the resources of our city we can far exceed any assistance previously given to the Massachusetts branch of the Near East Relief.

"The wonderfully constructive program recently undertaken by the Near East Relief for the 35,000 orphans in its care appeals to every American. The influence and efficiency of these young people are already being felt in Western Europe and portions of Asfa. The agricultural program of the Near East Relief through its orphans has already attracted the attention of the authorities of Greece, Armenian-Russia, and Syria, thus strengthening international ties and giving promise of great things for these nations recently harassed and impoverished by war.

"I commend to all our citizens this great work which will be concluded in a few years, and congratulate our citizens that we have the privilege of helping these children to self-help in a constructive program never before undertaken and which is in keeping with the great projects of the United States of America.

A certain Newton man, with wife and three children dependent upon him, has been unemployed all winter. He came into the office of the Newton Welfare Bureau late one afternoon recently, completely discouraged. Said he had been tramping the streets all day looking for work but had received no encouragement of prospective work before the end of March. This experience was not a new one to him, but the suggestion of spring in the morning air had renewed his hope that there was work for him somewhere if he could locate it.

His immediate need that afternoon was shoes for the two school children in his home, and when he left the Newton Welfare Bureau office in his pocket he had an order on a local shoe dealer for the two pairs of shoes.

Responsive to Truth

Laws execute themselves. They are out of time, out of space, and not subject to circumstance. Thus, in the soul of man there is a justice whose retributions are instant and entire. He who does a good deed is instantly en-nobled. He who does a mean deed is by the action itself contracted. He who puts off impurity thereby puts on purity. . . . If a man dissemble, deceive, he deceives himself, and goes out of acquaintance with his own being. Character is always known. out of acquaintance with his own beling. Character is always known.
Thefts never enrich; alms never impoverish; murder will speak out of stone walls. The least admixture of a lie—for example, the taint of vanity, any attempt to make a good impression, a favorable appearance—will instantly vitiate the effect. But speak the truth, and all things alive or brute

the grass underground there do seem

British Public Balked at Sanitary Methods

The meeting of the congress of the Royal Sanitary institute recalls the strong opposition which sanitary reformers once encountered. The Times in 1854 rejoiced that Chadwick had re-ceived a pension which would enable him to leave dirt and disease alone: "Aesculapius and Chiron, in the form of Mr. Chadwick and Doctor South or Ar. Chadwick and Doctor south-wood Smith, have been deposed, and we prefer to take our chance of chol-era and the rest than to be bullied into health."

Another complaint was that their activities had established "a perpetual Saturday night, and Master John Bull was scrubbed and rubbed and small-tooth-combed till the tears ran into his eyes, and his teeth chattered, and his fists clenched themselves with worry and pain."

What would the writer of this protest say if he could see the public health service today? According to his standard by this time Master John Bull ought to have been washed alto-gether out of existence and poured away with the soapsuds.—Manchester Guardian Weekly.

Brief Rest Was Fatal

When Gen. John Morgan, with his raiders, stopped to rest for an hour and a half at Chester, Ohio, during his Civil war foray, he committed an error that brought disaster. After resting, the raiders proceeded to Portland, reaching there just after dark. It was unusually foggy and this prevented the raiders from finding the vented the raiders from finding the ford leading to Bluffington Island. Had they reached Portland an hour earlier, they could have crossed the Ohio river to safety that night, says a writer in the Columbus Dispatch. Life of Human Hair

The length of life of the hair va-ries with the age, sex, character of hair and individual peculiarity. Each hair has its determined length of life, hair has its determined length of life, and this is not the same for every hair of the same sort. The rate of growth, especially in young women, is from 2 to 6 millimeters, or about 1/4 to 1/4 inch during each 10 days after first piercing the skin, or about 1/5 to 1/4 inch a month. When it reaches a length of 10 to 14 inches its rate of growth is reduced one-half, and later toward the end of its normal life its toward the end increase is hardly perceptible.

Hair Growth After Death

favors the view that the hair, include ing the beard, ceases to grow at death. Apparent growth of the hair and beard after death is explained by the shrinkage of the soft tissues around each individual hair, a natural result of the evaporation of the li-quids of the muscles. Those scien-tists who believe that there are au-thentic cases of the hair actually growing after death say that such growth continues but a brief period .-

With some experience in political matters for the past 25 years, we have been on both sides of the usefulness of the direct primary. Theoretically, the direct primary is all that its advocates claim for it. Practically, it is a dismal failure, both in the amount of interest taken in it by the average voter and in the quality of its nominations. Hence, after an ardent advocacy for its establishment, we now favor radical changes in its form and scope. We do not believe it is advisable, even if it is possible, to entirely eliminate the direct primary, but we do favor its application to only the offices in which the average voter, takes more than casual interest. Where the voter is interested, the nomination is of value. Where he is not interested the nomination is apt to be given to the least desirable of the candidates. We would like to see the governor, lleutenant governor, United States senators, Congressmen, state senators, representatives and county commissioners nominated by the direct primary. All other nominations should be made by a delegate convention of the party interested. The principal objection to the old convention system, was the collection of proxies from the elected delegates (most of whom never expected to attend the convention anyway) and the use of such proxies to give the nomination to favorue candidates of the so called "bosses." A strong prejudice still exists among the unthinking voters and among most of the women, that the convention system is of and for the devil himself. Such a feeling is an imputation that there isn't enough brains in the Commonwealth to make an honest convention possible. We have a feeling that a convention in which only the elected delegates could take part, would certainly eliminate the curse of the proxy system and would result in well considered nominations.

We trust the Legislature will not follow the recommendation of its committee in favoring a referendum at the next state election on the question of prohibition. Popular referenda which carry no positive action are worse than nothing and stir up a needless amount of useless discussion.

Taxpayers should look over with great care the figures of the 1927 budget as recommended by the Mayor. While other cities with about the same population have budgets of two to two and a half million. Newton is rapidly approaching the four million class.

We have a feeling that a convention in which only the elected delegates could take part, would certainly eliminate the curse of the proxy system and would result in well considered nominations.

We take but little stock in the preconvention plans heard recently at the state house. They were given a trial years ago in New York and subsequently discarded and we have a feeling that anything not good enough for Massachusetts.

The remedy, as we see it, is the Short ballot, with direct primary noon inations, all secondary officials to be nominated by convention or appointed by higher authority.

We have read with great care the comprehensive and interesting report made by Lockwood, Greene & Co., Inc., on the matter of a new City Hall for Newton. From the taxpayers point of view, there are two distinct issues in volved in the matter of a new city hall. Both are of equal importance, the site for the new building and its cost.

We very much doubt if any agreement can be made in regard to the location of such a structure. It has been located so many years in West Newton Business Men's association called on Mayor Childs and professional men asking that a permit be granted to Benner Rockman for a moving-picture theatre in the proposed building at Elm and Washington streets. UNDER THE GILDED DOME

One of the outstanding events in the work on Beacon hill this week was the favorable report of the Legal Affairs committee on the bill to allow athletic sports on Sunday. I am glad to state that Senator Simoneau of this district was one of the dissenters on this report. Senator Simoneau is also reported as dissenting on the bill to take a referendum on the prohibition question at the next state election.

The Election Laws committee has tion question at the next state election.

The Election Laws committee has reported another bill to further complicate the election situation in this state by requiring a primary, the last week in April to elect delegates to a convention to be held in June, the nominees of the convention to be placed on the ballot for the usual state primary in September, with the endorsement "nominated by convention." It is thought that by this method, the voter will have some guide in marking his ballot.

It seems to me there are two strong objections to the measure. First it adds another election day to be attended by the voter who now has hard work to vote at the present primary and election. Second, there is every reason to believe that after securing the endorsement of the convention, the average voter will conclude that that nomination is equivalent to an election, and will have an additional plausible excuse for not voting at the September primary. Finally, the scheme has been tried out in New York state and abandoned and I am sure that Massachusetts does not favor taking up New York's cast off methods.

A favorable report has been made on ods.

A favorable report has been made on the bill to impose a three cents tax on the sale of gasolene, coupled with a reduction in the registration fee. This method it is thought, will favor the automobile owner who uses his car but little and make the large user of gas pay his share of maintenance cost. I do not like the provision that one cent of this tax should be rebated to the different cities and towns for use on their local roads. The income from this source will simply be anticipated by the average selectmen, and the local appropriation for street maintenance reduced to a corresponding figure.

There were three roll calls in the House on Monday the Newton representatives voting with the majority of the House in each case. The roll calls were all on motions to substitute bills for adverse reports of committee and covered regulation of barbering, prohibiting injunctions in labor troubles and penalizing violations of law relative to employment of prisoners.

SERIOUS FIRE AT NONANTUM

Early last Friday morning, the old awelling at Watertown street, Nonantum, known as the Nugent house, was completely guited by fire. The house contained two apartments, one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Henry, and the other—where the fire started, by Bernard Lovely, 85, and William Craig, another aged man. The fire was discovered by an autoist who was driving by, and who notified the firemen at Hose 8, a short distance away. Policemen Dan Cleary of Newton and Joeseph Stead of Watertown rushed to the house, and forcing an entrance found Lovely in a semi-conscious condition. They rescued him and he was sent to the Newton Hospital where he was treated for smoke inhalation and a cut over his right eye. The policemen after rescuing Lovely rushed back into the house to look for Craig. They were soon joined by Sergs. Veduccio and Leehan and the Newton firemen. The rescuers sought in vain to find Craig until forced to leave the building by the flames and smoke. When the fire was extinguished, a careful search was made for Craig's remains. They were not found. Fortunately Craig was on a visit to friends when the fire occurred.

FINDS BURGLAR IN HOUSE

Monday afternoon as Mrs. James Kelly of 137 River street, West Newton, approached her home, she discovered the front door of her home open. In a room on the second floor of the house she discovered a man with his hands full of jewelry belonging to the Kelly family. She ordered him to give up his loot or she would summon the police. The burglar made a threatening move, as if to draw a pistol, and as Mrs. Kelly fied downstairs and out through the front doorway, the thief made his escape through the rear entrance of the house. Among the articles stolen were two gold watches, two rings and $20 in cash.

Frederick C. Perry, a well known resident of Newtonville for 30 years, died suddenly of heart failure on Wednesday. He was born in Bangor, Maine, SI years ago, and was formerly associated with the Arnold Print Works. His residence at 430 Walnut street, with its attractive gardens, was one of the showplaces of Newtonville. Mr. Perry opposed energetically the construction of the new high school building on the site where it is erected, contending that the city, in building the school there, violated the conditions imposed by the donors of the property comprising the former Claffinestate. He is survived by his widow. The funeral will be held today from his late residence. Burlal will be in Mount Hope Cemetery, Bangor, Maine.

Starting Monday next, as a result of the action of the aldermen, cars of the Middlesex and Boston will stop 65 feet from the end of the car track at Nonantum Square. The south track will not be used from the crossover on Washington street in front of the Trust Company building, A temporary traffic stand will be placed between the car tracks where the M & B terminal has been, and automobiles comminal has been, and automobiles coming from Watertown direction and travelling east, will make a direct left turn instead of taking the tour around the bank building. refused to attend this meeting, because he believes that important matters, such as a new City Hall building, which will cost the taxpayers of the city a huge sum of money, should be discussed publicly, so that the members of the press and citizens may be present and know just what is going on. The Ward 4 alderman referred to the fact "that he was on the original committee appointed last year to deal with the new City Hall problem, but he was not re-appointed this year." The present committee has but two members of last year's committee, Baker and Madden, on it, despite the fact that the former committee went to all sections of the city and listened to the views of citizens on this important matter. He deprecated secret sessions on important matters, requested that some member of the firm of Lockwood, Greene & Company (who made the survey on the new city hall) appear before the full Board of Aldermen, and asserted that he will refuse to attend any meeting of the aldermen hald behind closed doors.

Aldermen Bail and Fitts, who had not been reappointed to this year's special committee on the new City Hall, stated they had requested President Weeks not to reappoint them, because of their manifold duties on other committees. Chairman Baker of the special committee, referring to one of Mr. Heathcote's objections, explained that Lockwood, Greene & Company had not recommended any particular site for the new municipal capitol, because their contract with the city expressly stipulated that no such recommendation was to be made by them in connection with the survey.

"Someone has implied certain things from the inaugural address of the Mayor this year, because he referred to the 'Golden Calf.' I think the reporters took the wrong view. In my opinion, what he meant was 'that local citizens have been receiving permits for filling stations, and then transferring them to big outside oil companies.' I call on the Mayor to make a statement if he has any facts. I call on members of the press if they have information regarding financial benefits having been enjoyed by any alderman through the granting of permits for gasoline filling stations. So far as I am concerned, I would welcome any evidence of that character which the Mayor or the press can produce. It would give me great pleasure to mete out proper punishment to any member of the Board who would have stutified it in connection with the granting of permits for filling stations. I believe that the members of the Board are honest. They make great sacrifices to themselves and their families in serving the city. be encroached unless there is very granting of permits for filling stations. I believe that the members of the Board are honest. They make great sacrifices to themselves and their families in serving the city. The least the public can do is to give them credit for attempting to do what is right. I dislike very much to have newspapers give the public the impression that the aldermen are voting here for financial gain, rather than serving unselfishly and faithfully the interests of the city."

Alderman Madden Defends Veto

Alderman Madden Defends Veto Alderman Madden, taking the floor in defence of the veto, said, "This case should be regarded as was one some should be regarded as was one some years ago, when the Mayor vetoed a permit for a filling station opposite Engine 1 quarters at Newton Corner. An alderman, who was then a leader of the Board, said, 'the wishes of the executive should be given great weight.' The argument is offered that the permit should be granted because certain abuttors, who opposed such a station a few months ago, now favor it because they prefer a station rather than have stores erected. I know of no weaker argument than to advocate than have stores erected. I know of no weaker argument than to advocate the granting of filling station permits on every corner in the business zones rather than have stores erected. There were other old 'real estate tricks' to threaten abuttors, such as talking of selling property in attractive residential districts to colored persons, or bringing a woman, accompanied by a bringing a woman, accompanied by large family of small children, to i turn instead of taking the tour around be bank building. This will eliminate much of the congestion at the bank building. This will eliminate much of the congestion at the building the bu permit because of the report of the License Committee, I would hesitate to pass it over the Mayor's veto," Alderman Pratt asked Mr. Stuart, who was present, "If this permit is refused, will you build the stores?" Mr. Stuart replied, "Yes." Chairman Bliss of the License Committee said, "When the petition for the station at Chesley road and Beacon street, was presented last Fall, it was presented by a real estate broker who admitted the station would be turned over to an oil company. The situation has since entirely changed. The abuttors want the gasoline station. The block of stores may have been used as a threat, but if the station is permitted, the threat will be removed."

Alderman Earle Chides Madden

Alderman Earle reminded Alderman Madden of the latter's insistency in endeavoring to obtain the granting of a permit for a filling station at the corner of Court and Washington in the vicinity of Chesley road and Beacon street desire this station,' said Alderman Earle: "We are here to take care of the people. The stores

Alderman DeMille asked Mr. Stuart,

"Will you operate the station yourself?" Mr. Stuart answered, "No. I will lease it." Alderman Hodgdon said, "A little while ago the License Committee brought in a report favoring a station in Auburndale. There was much opposition to it from the people of Auburndale, and by the three aldermen from Ward 4. Despite this, the Mayor approved of the permit, and the alderman from Ward 1 (Madden) voted for it against the wishes of the people. The aldermen at the last meeting voted to grant the permit for the station at Beacon street and Chesley road, because they felt that the License Committee and the aldermen from Ward 6 had investigated this matter thoroughly, and had considered the wishes of the people living in the neighborhood. The opinion of one man should not prevail."

Adderman Noone said, "Enough has been said about the merits of this case. I think the committee report in this matter carries very little weight at this time. It carries an entirely different status because of the veto. The matter is directly before the full Board with no committee recommendation."

President Weeks then put the question, "Shall the order be passed, not withstanding the veto of the Mayor?"
Seventeen of the aldermen voted in favor. The three voting to sustain the veto were Heathcote, Madden and Noone. Alderman Gallagher was absent.

KIWANIS CLUB MEETING

Over 50 members were present at the Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday. The guest of the meeting was Brother Fabian, Superintendent of the Working Boys Home at Newton Highlands, on Winchester street. The Kiwanis Clubs are interested in helping underprivileged children and Brother Fabian, who has spent 25 years caring for homeless boys told the members of conditions at the institution over Oak Hill way.

for homeless boys told the members of conditions at the institution over Oak Hill way.

The Working Boys Home was established many years ago in Boston as a refuge for young boys who had to be self-supporting. In 1894 the home was moved to its present site on the banks of the Charles River, near Kenrick Bridge, Oak Hill. The grounds include 60 acres of woodland and meadows. For some years a paper was printed at the home by the young boys there, but since the Xaverian Brothers assumed charge 17 years ago, the printing plant at the home has been discontinued. Brother Fabian explained that there are 125 boys at the home between the ages of 8 and 16. He stated that the name "Working Boys Home" is a misnomer, as the youngsters at the home are not "working boys," but school boys. He stated that while some of the boys have come from sortid environments, others are orphans of honest parentage. He told of some cases where a parent will allow a young boy to be raised at the home because of the parent's alleged inability to support the child, but when the boy has reached the age of 16, and is developed enough to become a wage earner, the parent who had neglected the child, suddenly acquires a great interest in him, and insists on the boyr returning to reside with his relatives. Brother Fabian told of the methods in vogue at the home to develop the boys there into good citizens. They receive good food, the dormitories and all the buildings are kept extremely clean, and thanks to kind friends, the youngsters are kept comfortably clothed and well supplied with athletic equipment and books. The boys are taught to look everyone in the eye, to acquire confidence and self-respect, and to be unselfish. Every boy is made to indulge in different kinds of sports, and each boy is made aware that his rights must be respected.

Brother Fabian is optimistic regarding supposed boys. He asserted that if you keep a boy active you keep him

Brother Fabian is optimistic regarding supposed boys. He asserted that if you keep a boy active you keep him out of mischief; and that there are very few boys who will not respond to kindness and fair treatment. He invited the members of the Kiwanis Club to visit the home anytime from 6 in the morning until 9 at night, as there are no special visiting hours. "When you come," said he, "you will see no rules posted on the walls or corridors of the building. I am opposed to this practice." He explained that the Xaverian Brothers avoid as much as possible all appearances that will cause the home to seem otherwise than the abode of one big, friendly family.

Lenten services will be held on Vednesday evenings during Lent at

lows:

March 23—Rev. Raymond Lang.

March 30—Rev. Richard G. Preston.

April 6—Rev. Dr. Percy T. Edrop.

This afternoon there will be a children's service at 4 o'clock in the church followed by stereopticon pictures in the parish house.

LENTEN SERVICES

At the Newton Centre Unitarian Church during Lent, the minister, George L. Parker, is preaching a series of sermons on the general title, "The Life of the Soul." Last Sunday, the topic was, "The Growth of a Soul," and for the remaining Lenten Sundays the topics are as follows:

March 13-"The Receptiveness of the Soul."

March 20—"The Soul Talks With Itself."

March 27—"Pathfinders of the Soul."

April 3—"The Soul Says I Will." April 10—"When the Soul Lets Go." April 17—Easter Day, "The Soul and Death."

April 17—Easter Day, "The Soul and Death."

These sermons are based on the thought that unless man becomes fully conscious of himself as a soul his search for God is a vain effort and largely self delusion. If there be a God of life and wisdom he would not seek to associate with men unless men felt the need of him. The trouble with our present day religion is that it often seeks to imply something for which men feel no need. To awaken this need and to understand its insistent reality is the chief need of religious activity and worship. Rightly understood, the civilization of today gives to the soul of man one of the richest opportunities in all history. To regard modern civilization as a killer of the soul is a wrong interpretation. Machinery, itself, need not be destructive of man's spirit, but can and should be one of the spirit's greatest inspirations. To trace out these thoughts and lead up to Easter with hope of immortality will be the purpose of these sermons.

On Sunday evening, March 13, the Hale Union will hold its regular meeting. Mr. Parker will lead a discussion on some practical matters connected with church life.

ment calls for $74,191, of which over $61,000 is for various forms of pensions. The Library totals $71,915, about the same figure as last year. Charity demands $64,899, of which $22,000 is for Mothers' Aid.
Health wants $51,100, of which $18,900 is for school inspection and $18,300 for care of disease.
Engineering costs $37,900, most of which is for salaries.
The City Clerk shows a decrease due to the fact that there is but one election this year. His total is $32,992.
The Assessors request $27,150, the Mayor increasing the department's request by raising salaries of the three assessors. A petty story is told of a man who, in a trance, found himself in another sphere, standing by a bank covered with exquisite violets, the scent of which filled the air. Stopping to admire the flowers, he saw each dainty bloom lift its tiny head in acknowledg-ment of his delight in their beauty. Sir Jagadis Bose, the Indian scien-tist, calls plants anchored animals, and has proved beyond doubt that some plants are actually more sensi-tive than human beings. He has shown that they are actually affected by the approach of certain people. This is a fact of intense interest to many flower lovers who have long sus-pected that something of the sort was the case. They have noticed that flow-ers in adjoining gardens or allotments, on similar soil and apparently similarly treated, do not grow alike, but that in one garden they bloom more luxuriantly than in the other. They have noticed also that certain people are far more successful than others in growing what may be called shy flowers. It would appear that the personality of the gardener has much to do with the success of the flower garden—that, in fact, there are people whom flowers love, just as there are those who have a natural power with animals. Often a comparatively frail woman can manage a horse which strong men have at tempted to hold in vain, and we all know cases of apparently insignificant people who are adored by all dogs.

Wouldn't Drink Milk

"Squeezed" From Cow

A little girl and her mother were visiting in the country, on a farm. Having always lived in the city the cow was a great curiosity to the child and she was very much interested in watching its movements. One day she saw the farmer milk-ing. She watched him as he carried

Early Peruvian Pottery

Prehistoric pottery provides virtually all the known history of the Chimus, a race occupying the northern part of Peru before it was conern part of Peru before it was con-quered by the Incas. These people made their pottery by the coiling process. Long strips of clay were colled around, one upon another, and the mass thus formed molded to the desired shape by means pf shells or smooth pebbles. When finished, nearly all evidence of the coils was obliterated. It is by means of this obliterated. It is by means of this pottery that modern scholars are made familiar with the daily life of these early Peruvians. Vessels often are found in the shape of the vege-tables used. Some clearly indicate the squash, ears of corn, beans, potatoes and other vegetables familiar today. There are many so-called portrait jars, giving a clear idea of the facial appearance of the race.—San Fran-cisco Bulletin.

Early Autopsy

New York's social register for 1657, in reality the town enrollment for New Amsterdam, as New York then was known, contained the names of 20 "great citizens" and 204 "small citizens" and it was among the latter that the physicians were mentioned. In that same year doctors were called upon to do detective work, since it was requested that they should ask was requested that they should ask wounded patients how they had re-ceived their injuries and by whom. GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Girl Scout Officers Association held its monthly get-together on Thursday evening, March 9th, at the Parish rooms of the Unitarian Church in West Newton. A St. Patricks Day supper, all trimmed with green was served to fifty some members by the officers of Troops 7 and 17, Newton Upper Falls. After the husiness meeting the association was most pleasurably entertained by Mrs. Ginn of Newton Highlands, who spoke on Community and group singing, and sang with the officers the songs which the Girl Scouts will sing at the State Review at the Boston Arena in May. After a vote of thanks to the speaker and the hostesses, the meeting ended with Taps.

Have you ever seen the "Pony Express?" If you haven't seen this exciting film of adventure in the old west, your chance will come to you on March 19th at 8 p. m. when this picture will be shown at the Angier School Assembly Hall in Waban. The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 14 are sponsoring the production for the benefit of the Old Ironsides Fund. Tickets may be bought at the door or from any member of Troops 4 or 14. And this reminds us—Have you bought your copy of the picture of the old frigate yet? These prints are of very good quality and are well worth framing.

They are also being sold by Troop 14 and may be bought at the door on the evening of March 19th when the Pony Express film is shown at the Angier School in Waban.

A course in Red Cross Life Saving was started at the Lasell Swimming Pool on Friday evening, March 4th. Thirteen girls were present, 2 of whom were assisting the instructor. It has been necessary to limit this course to 20 members because of the small size of the pool, and a waiting list is being formed of those girls that applied too late. It is hoped that these disappointed ones may be taken care of at Camp Mary Day in June before the Camp opens for the season. The following Girl Scouts have signed up for the course at Lasell: Alma Warner, Phyllis Burnell, Georgia Walther of Troop No. 1, Newtonville, Marjorie Shaw of Troop No. 2, Newton, Barbara Flecknor of Troop No. 3, Newton Centre, Virginia Randall of Troop No. 13, Newton Centre, Eleanor Burnham, Mary Stephan, Suzanne Davis, Willetta Moser, of Troop No. 14, Waban, Alice Furbish, Dorothy Foss, Helen Perkins, Eleanor Wales, Priscilla Wales, Barbara Edmunds of Troop No. 18, Auburndale, and Jane Day, and Charlotte Esmond of Troop, Newtonville.

Tall the corner of the famous Amati violins, it is stated, is due to the lime saits with which the instruments are stained. The material is imbedded in the pores of the wood, and is believed to be at least partly responsible for the hitherto unsolved secret of why old violins give such a remarkable tone.

FAVOR APARTMENT BUILDINGS

The monthly meeting of the Newton Corner Business Men's Association was held Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club. About 50 members were present. The guests of the evening included Building Commissioner Chadwick and Aldermen Baker, Madden and Grebenstein of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen. Aldermen Hawkins and Hodgdon, who are members of the association were present, as was Mayor Childs, who is also a member, Music was furnished by the Treadwell Orchestra, the violinist of this musical ensemble being Larry Fredericks of the Newton Glass Company. Mr. Fredericks and his associates showed a proficiency worthy of the best known orchestras of similar size in Boston. Eddie King entertained with popular songs. in Boston. Eddie with popular songs.

in Boston. Eddie King entertained with popular songs.

Mr. Chadwick explained the duties of his department and the work performed by his subordinates. He referred to the criticisms made "that Newton's building department is overmanned," and quoted figures to show that Newton has fewer employees than have other cities performing less work. Eighty-two buildings are cared for by the department, including 29 schools. He spoke of the proposed changes in the Building Code of the city, one of which will allow the erection of apartment houses of second-class construction, not over three stories high. Also the erection of store and office buildings of second class construction, not over two stories in height. Under the present building code, such buildings have to be of freproof construction; this requirement has made the erection of such buildings in Newton almost prohibitive.

Alderman Madden who is Cheirman —Mrs. Alexander D. Salinger of Vernon Court has returned from St. Petersburg, Florida.

—Miss Harriet Murray of Centre street is entertaining at bridge and dancing tomorrow evening.

—Mrs. Clement Smith of Washington street left today for a visit with her son at New London, Conn.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchins of Waverley avenue have returned from a three weeks West India trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett of Auburn, Maine, are spending the weekend was Mrs. Judd Cone of Linder terrace.

Alderman Madden, who is Chairman of the Committee which passes on the proposed changes in the building code, gave his views on the question of apartment buildings. He told how the present strict laws in Newton pertaining to the fireproof construction of apartment and business blocks, is the result of special restrictions made hurapartment and business blocks, is the result of special restrictions made hurriedly to prevent the erection of an apartment block at the corner of Centre and Church streets some years ago, and a business block at Walnut street and Highland avenue, Newtonville. Under the proposed change, apartment houses of second-class construction may be built in business or general residence zones. If any objection comes from an abuttor against the erection of an apartment building in a general residence zone, it will take a two-fhirds vote of the total number of aldermen to grant the permit.

a two-thirds vote of the total number of aldermen to grant the permit. "Newton is a residential city," said Mr. Madden, "and any attempts to convert it into a business city, or to allow a large number of apartment buildings within its confines, will meet with decided opposition. It has been thought that the zoning ordinance was an attempt at class segregation. I have noticed that the aldermen from the single residence districts are quite willing to "let down the bars' in the general residence districts. The more apartments we will have, the more people we will have, and these will necessitate more stores, more schools, necessitate more stores, more schools, and more expense." He asserted that in the general residence districts in Newton, are many old-time residents who would dislike to have large apartment blocks erected in their neighborhoods, to deprive them of the air, sunlight and views they have been accustomed to enjoy." These pepole are just as much entitled to protection," said Mr. Madden, "as the more wealthy people residing in the single residence zones." He argued that separate zones should be set aside in which apartment blocks may be built. The contention today is, according to Mr. Madden, "that in business zones, it is wrong to stop the establishment of any legitimate business development." This same argument would be used, he stated, to allow the erection of apartment buildings in any general residence zone.

Mayor Childs mentioned the emerated and more available mentioned the committee in charge and twenty tables were in play, prizes being awarded at each table. Refreshments were served and candy sold.

Another party will be held on March 15th. necessitate more stores, more schools, and more expense." He asserted that Mayor Childs mentioned the emergency situation which occasioned the present rigid restrictions which almost prohibit the erection of apartment buildings in Newton. This restriction ordinance was rushed through when the Eliot Church and Immanuel Church at Newton were threatened by the erection of a cheap apartment house on the Scales property. The result desired having been accomplished, and the building of this apartment prevented, Mayor Childs suggested "that perhaps it is well if a return may be made to the old building code requirements, which will permit the use of second class construction in apartment buildings.

a type that would be of attractive appearance, and confined to such parts of the general residence zones as are near the transportation lines.

Alderman Crohenstein explained the changes in traffic conditions which are to be made at Newton Corner. He favored the erection of better class apartments and stated that occupants of apartments possess equal buying power as do persons residing in single and two-family dwellings.

J. Edward Callanan asked Mr. Madden "If he does not consider the Croydon and Hunnewell Apartments desirable?" Mr. Madden replied in the affirmative, but predicted that attempts might be made to build cheap apartments of the type which have lessened the attractiveness of Brookline. Clement Hernandez told of the inability of persons of desirable character to obtain apartments in Newton, and urged the need of this type of building. The organization voted to go on record as favoring the immediate passing of an amendment to the Building Code which will permit the erection of apartment buildings of second-class construction in Newton.

the first of last August by Christian Zappe of Dedham, whose bid for the job—$11,400, was with one exception, far below the other bids received. Mr. Zappe had a plan of excavation radically different from the ordinary plan used in such work. He figured on being able to excavate the site of the well by using a 6 inch rotary pump to suck the sand and gravel out of the ground. This pump was operated by a small tractor. The work was supposed to be finished the 1st of last November. Little success attended the method first used by Mr. Zappe. Will have lost at least $20,000 on this job, when the work will be completed. He deserves great credit for the gameness he has shown in sticking to his task under very discouraging conditions. A less honorable man would have long ago abandoned the job, if faced with the loss which Mr. Zappe has had to assume. Although not wealthy, he has kept faith with Newton, and those who have witnessed his determination in "carrying on," hope that at sometime in the future, he may be the successful bid der in some other municipal project in this city, which will, to some degree, compensate him for the loss sustained on this job.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Who took away, from the B. & A.
The Newton station clock?

There is a little conundrum containing more truth than poetry. I am not certain who may be the proper person to answer it or whether I have good grounds for anticipating a reply to this most important query. The fact remains, however, there is no clock at what the old-timers call "the Newton Corner Depot."

Just why the Boston & Albany has seen fit to deprive its patrons of this convenience would be interesting to learn. As it stands, the only thing one may do is to speculate and that, like the questions propounded in the "Can you answer this one?" columns, may furnish entertainment even if it doesn't get you anywhere.

Now it may happen that the road seeks to pay its patrons a delicate compliment by assuming that each man, woman and child-who uses the Newton depot is fortunate enough to possess a high-grade time-piece of one kind or another. If that is so it is indeed flattering, but hardly sound reasoning. Everybody knows the rail-roads have their own clocks (at some stations at any rate) and the trains are run according to these excellent products of the clock manufactory. Our wrist watches and even our more imposing gold watches, to which heavy chains are attached to connect them with cigar-cutters or lead pencils, sometimes are found to be in disagreement. A railroad clock is always supposed to be accurate, and as far as I know it is.

But to get back to the Newton station. There is no clock on its walls.

sometimes are found to be in disagreement. A railroad clock is always supposed to be accurate, and as far as I know it is.

But to get back to the Newton station. There is no clock on its walls. What's the idea? Surely it cannot be the Boston & Albany has chosen this method of booming the business of watch makers? If the road wishes to see our jewelry stores selling more watches it would hardly dare discriminate in favor of any one line of trade. If the road sold its own line of watches that of course would be sufficient reason for encouraging patronage.

Still, the whole thing is complicated and I might say mystifying. As I recall the last clock that hung on the wall of the Newton Corner depot was of the "banjo" variety. Maybe I am wrong about this, but I think my readers will agree that it was something of an antique and would probably bring a good price if displayed outside a tea-room on the Mohawk trail.

Stop!!! Perhaps this is the very answer! Can it be that some collector of antiques, whose zeal includes kleptomania, has stolen this splendid old time-piece and that the management of the railroad, instead of raising a rumpus, is patiently waiting for him to return it. Yes, I guess that is the solution.

I have been favored with a copy of a pamphlet containing an article written by William Atherton Du Puy on "Why a 'Wet' Candidate Will Never Be President." It is not only timely but it makes good receives, and this I say without any attempt to spread propaganda which, we all know, is one of the favorite "spreads" at public dinners and in the columns of numerous periodicals and newspapers. Now here is the way in which Mr. Du Puy makes out his case. He says: "To get a viewpoint of this situation let us suppose that we are standing on top of the Alleghanies at Altoona, Penn. We are facing to the southwest. We have before us the record of past performances in wet and dry voting of that great expanse of states that reaches to the Pacific in one direction and to Mexico in the other. First we look to west. We enumerate the recorded dry states. Here they are: "Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, "Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan,"

"Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan,
Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South
Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, California. The score is 21.
"We view the same area for oases, for wet spots of hopefulness. We write down the states that have taken a stand for liquor. Here is the list:
"Wisconsin, Missouri. The score is 2.

"Wisconsin, Missouri. The score is 2.

"The utter hopelessness of the wet cause west of Pennslyvania is obvious on the face of it. Now, from your point of vantage at Altoona, look to the south. Enumerate first the dry states that you see:

"West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennesse, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas. The score is 13.

sissippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas. The score is 13.

"Now pick out the wet spots. Louisiana—a total of 1.

"Yielding Louisiana to the wets, though it is but half wet, the score is one single state to the south. Throughout all this area there is no liquor question. It has been definitely settled long ago. Regardless of the personal views of southern politicians, they are dry because of the existence of the race question. All candidates for all offices are dry to the last deree.

"Then facing about at Altoona, look to the east and north. Canada is yonder to the left. The Atlantic Ocean stretches to the east. Enumerate the dry states. Here they are:
"Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Delaware. There are 5.

for all offices are dry to the last de

"Name the states that are wet:

"New York, Maryland, Rhode Island and Connecticut. The total is 4.

"Those in the doubtful column are as follows:

"New Jersey, Pennsylvania, though the later is hardly doubtful. They number 2. So the score for the United States as a whole stands thus:

Doubtful ...

Doubtful 2"
Mr. Du Puy concludes his argument with this assertion:
"The wonder is that, in face of these incontrovertible facts, this question continues to arise to plague the public. It is as definitely settled as is that of slavery. Believe it or not, like it or not, America is preponderantly dry beyond the last least shadow of doubt."

Miss Hattiemae Austin, who has just resigned as secretary of the West Newton Community Centre made the following report of her work in West

Newton:
On the eve of my resignation from the West Newton Community Centre, I take much pleasure in presenting, not only a report of last year's work, but a combined report of my work since coming to West Newton April 1st, 1925.

In the year and ten months that I have been with you, I have studied conditions in the community and attempted to introduce a constructive program of activities that would meet the needs of all classes of citizens. The aim has been not only to reach the child and adult of humbler circumstances but those from better districts as well. All are needed in the work if we are to promote better citizenship and be of the greatest service to one another and to the town in which we live.

Work for boys and girls was estab-Work for boys and girls was estab-lished during the first year. This year an effort has been made to in-terest older people, especially parents of our members, believing that the Playground Department takes care of a large number of the children that the Centre does not reach, and that little recreation has been provided for married men and women of the vil-lage.

ittle recreation has been provided for charried men and women of the village.

The membership has gradually increased until to date 380 members have joined the organization or 6%, testimating the population of West Newton as 6,000.

Eighteen clubs have been organized, at the names of which are:

Bide-A-Wee, school girls, 11 members; Cherr, colored working girls, 17 members; Cardt, leisure class women, 9 members; Craft, leisure class women, 9 members; Craft, leisure class women, 27 members; Go-Ahead, colored school boys, 18 members; Golden Rule, school girls, 30 members; Pre-Kindergarten, miscellaneous children, 11 members; Live Wires, Italian working boys, 16 members; Moulton, colored women, 34 members; Whittling, school girls, 13 members; Whittling, school girls, 13 members; Woug, school boys, 42 members; Wowen, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Wowen, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 33 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Rovers, no club, 2 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; Holling, 10 members; Whittling, school boys, 42 members; W

Each club is a self-governed body. Sessions begin with a business meeting conducted according to parliamentary law. Those who have visited our club can testify to the splendid results achieved by this training. Young children conduct business meetings with the poise and correctness of a politician. A club-due of two cents per week has provided a fund for special club features. Parties were given to mothers and teachers, scrap books made for shut-in children, lumber purchased for manual training, base-ball gloves provided, checker and tensis tournament prizes supplied and solders for tin-craft work bought, all pression compared to the aggregate expense of the work but one of willingness to serve.

To a large degree happiness comes through self-expression. In the choice of activities consideration has been made to satisfy a creative instinct or supply a recreational desire. Preference has been given dressmaking, manual training, and handicraft. Girls and women are specializing in the crafts this year, weaving rugs, making lamp shades, reed trays, as well as all kinds of needle work. The material is supplied by the individual but instruction given gratio. Folk dancing is the activity of one special group of small girls. A gymnasium class for the Directors and their friends meets once a week. Hikes have been popular. Baseball teams from the "Young" and "Whittling" clubs created much interest not only in west Newton but in the neighboring villages. Our boys were victorious in most of their matches and won recognition from school and playground teams. Football has been enjoyed by the same clubs this fall. Any Monday, or Wednesay large groups of enthusiasts could be seen on the Eden Avenue Playground watching the above mentioned clubs practicing with a competent coach. Since Christmas the "Young" Club meets in the school for manual training instructions while

Apart from the various club activities several community functions of note have been featured by the Centre. Dances for the young people, Halloween parties, a Better Home Contest in which any member had the privilege of entering, special pienics to the Applachian Camp in the Blue Hills and to our President's camp on Lake Cochituate; a trip to Revere Beach given by the Newton Rotary Club and lastly the two Community Christmas Trees which surpassed all other undertakings in creating town wide interest. No function held in West Newton has created such a spirit of good citizenship as our two Christmas Pageants. Hundreds of people came together to sing carols of peace and goodwill; the picture of the long procession of 150 members in their gay colored costumes as they emerged from the school and grouped about the tree, the pantomimes of several carols so well done by children of our organization, will be long remembered by many as a delightful public entertainment—one form of service.

The results of the work with the colored people of the town have been

The speaker next week will be Mr. John H. Geldart who for a number of years has been Newton Y. M. C. A.'s Secretary in China. For the past two years he has been stationed at Hong Kong. He has only recently returned from China and will therefore be able to give a very interesting talk on what is happening on that side of the world. State Boys' Day is being observed this year on March 12th. This is the fifteenth time the boys of the Young Men's Christian Association of Massachusetts and Rhode Island will conduct a Boys-of-the-World Campaign.

This is the one day in the year when the boys of the local Association have the privilege of soliciting the financial support of their friends. The boys' goal is five-hundred dollars. Every worker has won high commendation in other years, and through the co-operation of interested citizens they have not been disappointed in reaching the goal. They go out again this Saturday with the same faith and courage to believe that their friends want to "build better boys for their community."

QUALITY FIRST

In these days of the universal use of paint, stains and varnishes, no ar-gument is needed to prove their worth. Chandler and Barber Company have lways considered quality first in Chandler and Barber Company have always considered quality first in paints and varnishes which they distribute. Various other factors have compelled a change from one make to another. They have been carrying a well known brand for a number of years but conditions have necessitated their making a change to a New England product made by New England men.

men. The Norfolk Paint and Varnish Company, having a factory in the suburbs of Boston, is controlled by men with the true New England spirit.

the true New England spirit.

The line carries twenty-one regular colors with the very best approved shades, together with flat white, gloss, semi gloss, or any application of white, according to its purpose, whether for colonial home or mill white for factory use. Then there are the floor paints which are coming into use more and more as expressing the colonial days, as well as contributing to the color and home like effect of various rooms, this either in paint or stains. If stained, of course, varnish of a durable nature is required. Flat wall colors that can be washed are more and more used in place of other coverings for walls. Varnish, stains, gloss paint which includes the high grade varnish for furniture of various kinds, all give the cheerful note that paint always imparts. Even the smell of fresh paint indicates a spring condition or changing order from the cold and lifeless condition of Winter to the green of growing nature.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Professional Woman's Club
The many Newton members of the Professional Women's Club will be interested in the announcement of the Annual Spring Show which is to bemost up-to-dately—in the new Statler Hotel Ball Room on the evening of Saturday, March 12th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs Maude Nichols Lyon is chairman of the Show Committee, and Mrs. Mirlam L. Staples is vice chairman Mrs. Nelson W. Howard, the Club president, has written a one-act play for the occasion, and Mrs. L. H. Gulesian, whom Newton delights to claim in her residency at Chestnut Hill, has written a musical comedy number: "Old Little Lady." Olga Mansfield has the leading male role, and Lucille Perry Hall is director of a dancing chorus of eight. Dancing specialities, through the courtesy of the studio of Lilla Viles Wyman, and spectacular Hindoo dances by courtesy of Mme. Roberta Ruchmond's studios are extra attractions. Mme. Marfe di Pesa will appear in costume with song and dance of Requel Mellor, and Mme. Claire Meanz will sing the Aria from Aida. There will also be scenes from Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "Patience," with a chorus of twenty lovesick maidens. The great event is looked forward to, and fortunate members from this city will be glad of this opportunity to go at so early a date to Boston's newest hotel, as well as to this alluring entertainment promised them.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

"The Madonna in Art" is the attractive topic for members of the Monday Club at their meeting on the afternoon of the 14th. Mrs. L. H. Marshall and Mrs. S. L. Eaton will present the program, and Mrs. C. D. Miller, of 77 Lakewood Road, opens her home for the Club.

Waban Woman's Club

The same afternoon, the 14th, at the Neighborhood Club House, the members of the Waban Woman's Club will enjoy a song-recital on Czecho-Slovakia by Stella Marek Cushing. The lecturer, who is as well a vocalist and violinist and composer, will appear in the charmingly picturesque costume of this most colorful country, and entertain with folk songs, and in masterpieces of famed Bohemian composers. Probably there is no one country, the very name of which is so full of foreign possibilities, that has come more to the attention of Americans in the years since the World War than has this one, and members will be glad, therefore, that they are privileged to bring their daughters, of High School age, and otherwise, so that they may come to know more about this peculiar-sounding land of which they are constantly hearing. Mrs. Cushing will be assisted at the piano by Dorothy Clements Evans. Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Music chairman, is in charge of this attractive afternoon.

A splendid aid to the Boston Phil-

A splendid aid to the Boston Phil-A splendid aid to the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra has been planned by this Club, in sponsoring a Bridge Party for the afternoon of March 16th, when Mrs. Gifford Le Clear opens her spacious home on Upland Road for this affair. Club members by purchasing tickets at one dollar for this pleasant get-together and pastime are purchasing in reality a ticket to the Sunday concert of this Boston orchestra which takes place on April 16th, so having two enjoyable afternoons on the same nominal expenditure. This clever method of economical purchase of pleasure is commendable.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

With the advancing season and its promise of Spring, with the birds and flowers, the subject of the lecture at the meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will prove most timely, that of "Planning the Flower Garden."

The Conservation Committee has chosen Mrs. Elizabeth Leonard Strang, a member of the Society of Landscape Architects, as the speaker of the day, and in a community where nearly everyone has a garden, there will be much interest in the practical suggestions offered.

Preceding Mrs. Strang's address, Mrs. William E. Leonard, chairman of the Public Health Committee, is to present Dr. George Adams Leland of Boston. Dr. Leland is to speak of the campaign the State is carrying on to acquaint the public with the prevention of cancer and what is being accomplished in that line.

The usual Spring classes in swimming and horseback riding are being arranged by the Public Health Committee, and those who desire to enroll should notify the chairman at once.

letter was read, and Hon. John C. Hull, speaker of the House.

Hon. Carl E. Milliken, ex-Governor of Maine, and now secretary to Will Hays, the president of the organization that is supposed to be trying to clean up the moving picture industry, came on purposely from New York to speak. He explained the magnitude of the industry, and finally offered a constructive suggestion—that a committee of all large organizations hold "previews" of pictures, and report to their personnel, so that the good pictures would be patronized, and the poor ones boycotted. The trouble now is that a good picture only becomes known as such after the moving picture house has played it to empty seats.

In spite of this suggestion, however, Mr. Milliken, when asked if such a committee were formed in Massachusetts, if his organization and the producers would aid by giving such a place for pre-view in Boston, to the amazement of his hearers, said this would havel to be a national affair, not a State one. It would seem that with four million people in Massachusetts that that were enough to be considered as to what they wish to see, and surely there are women enough to share in these pre-views even to go daily, without burden to any one, as Mr. Milliken declared would be necessary, with 800 feature pictures, and some 2000 other pictures exhibited yearly.

It is to be hoped that this will be followed up. and such pre-views are Williams, one of the retiring directors, opened her home on Hyde Street for the affair, and with Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, president of the Club, and the two vice-presidents, Mrs. Fred G. Sandford and Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse, received the guests.

A card, bearing her name, clearly printed, was given each one present, helping to promote acquaintance quickly, as did the guessing contest "we go a-hunting," which kept the company of some 60 persons moving from room to room to locate the objects which were described on the tally cards by quotations from the poets. Burns' familiar "to see oursels as ithers see us" proved, of course, to be a mirror, and Scott's "Hail to the Chief," a portrait of President Coolidge, while Tennyson's well-known "Charge of the Light Brigade" was tellingly symbolized by an electric light bill.

The much discussed and "cussed" rule compelling automobiles to circle the bank building at Newton Corner, was changed Wednesday. The change was supposed to have gone into effect Monday, but the police and street departments required a couple of days to prepare for the new system. Monday employees of the Street Department, painted a number of signs along the sidewalks on Washington and Centre streets. These signs told the world that "No Parking" would be permitted on Centre street from the bus stop North, which meant that no parking could be had on the east side of Centre street for a distance of about 50 yards. Parking was also stopped from 263 Washington street, and from the Alpine Lunch down to the Woolworth store. Immediately a storm of protests arose from those storekeepers in front of whose business places parking was stopped. They went individually and collectively to the Chief of Police, the Mayor, the aldermen and hoped that former athletes at Newton and Somerville under Mr. Dickinson's coaching, will contribute. The track cup will be turned over to the State as sociation in 1929 when that body will rassume charge of it and defray any a additional expenses incurred.

I James Mansfield, Haverhill High the choice coach, was elected vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Newton mentor. Testimonials were read and the following resolution on Mr. Dickinson's death were adopted:

"Whereas in his infinite wisdom the Divine Ruler of the Universe has seen fit to call from our ranks and the family circle our esteemed friend and fellow worker; whereas the many who have come in contact with him as teacher, coach or fellow townsmen reverence him in the highest degree because of his helpful, willing and co-operative spirit; and whereas we deeply regret his passing from us, though profoundly proud that his teachings and ideals have stamped a perpetual memorial upon the minds of those who knew him, be it therefore resolved; that this organization of Coaches at this meeting by standing in silent meditation for one minute reverence the memory of 'Allie' Dickinson."

He played last summer with the Newton Catholic Club, establishing an enviable record as a help to his pitchers, and also as a hitter. Last spring he was the prop of a very strong Newton team, being one of the most alert players that ever graduated from the school. What he will do now is a question, but he will probably continue with his plans to matriculate at Yale.

Over 120 persons attended the public opening of the Newton high school gymnasium last Saturday night and witnessed the Harvard-Tuffs basketball game and two exhibition games between orange and black teams of the high school. It is the first public basketball game at the high school for over fifteen years when Newton high was last represented by a varsity quintet. Judging from the playing Saturday night the contemplated varsity team of next winter will hold its own with the best of the school outfits. The first of the three games played was between two picked freshmen teams, the orange and the black. The orange team enulated the veariling player.

The second affair was between orange and black teams picked from the junior and sophomore classes, from which the varsity will draw largely next season. The orange team emulated the yearling five and defeated the blacks 12 to 10. Gore and B. Rockwood starred for the winners while Becker, Payne and Pierce kept the blacks in the running and the final outcome of the game in doubt until the final whistle.

Harvard had little difficulty in trimming Tufts, 57 to 28, after getting away to a slow start. Previous to the blacks are for two years.

He came from Andover where he starred for a year, then made a name for himself on the freshman team where he was the outstanding performer being one of the reasons.

McQuiston Takes Three Feats

McQuiston Takes Three Feats
The Dartmouth freshmen overwhelmed Andover in their annual track meet. The chief reason for the sudden reversal of the scores was in the person of Walter McQuiston. Running for the first time under the Dartmouth colors in a dual meet he scored 15 points for the Green. After a long rest from track he came back with a vengeance winning the short dash, the 220, and then out-distancing the broadjump field. The latter was the best performance of the day, for he reached 21 feet which will make him a valuable addition to any track team. With a little more competition, he will doubtless be one of the best men that they have had up in Hanover for some years in the dash events.

Howard Palmer of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology freshman team ran a fast race in the 600 against the Huntington School representative. Although he was only able to make a second he finished close on the heels of the leader and pushed him all the way. The opportunity for a freshman to practice over on the Charles is very slight, and the lack of sufficient training may have been the reason for his defeat, for his past record was one of the best in the vicinity.

Green Wins and Loses

Green Wins and Loses

Dartmouth natators have taken on two opponents, recently swamping Boston University, and being soaked by the water department of the United States, otherwise known as the Navy. Bunny Bryant, the star dashman, however, refused to see any of his honors go by the board for he won his two dash events according to custom, but in the Navy meet the relay team was defeated, for the first time this year. Bryant will probably be captain in the coming year, for he is recognized as the leading dash man in college circles, and has been one of the biggest factors in the continuous success of the Green swimmers this season. He probably will also enter some outdoor meets this summer just to keep himself in trim, and next year go after some of the pool records that ia are waiting to be broken.

As the basketball season did not end until last Saturday night the coaches ordered Gore to rest for a week before coming out for practice.

Three members of last year's first string pitching staff were among those given uniforms. Donald Wilson. Newt Hanscom and Sam McCleary will probably bear the brunt of the work this year. Hanscom's arm went back on him last year but it is hoped that he has recovered. McCleary, the colored boy from West Newton, is a hard-hitting pitcher and it would not be surprising to see him in the outfield part of the time. One of the most likely looking of the new candidates is Linquist; a transfer from aligh school in Maine. He is a port-sider and in practice has been showing great form. If he delivers the goods when he gets into the box Newton will not have much to work this gar part for about.

Harold Andres, Horace White, and a lad named Mullen are the three prospective outfielders. Andres was a regular last year while White played on the intermediate team. Mullen j a mite of fellow but he can cover the ground like a deer. He is the same lad who ran the dash in several dual track meets this winter.

Harold Macy, Riley, Biersto, and Reed are possible pitchers who may replace some of the other men already mentioned. It is still too early to make predictions as there is hard-

EDITORIAL

EDITORIAL

We are greatly disappointed in the attitude of three of the representatives from Newton in the General Court on the bill for a referendum on the 18th amendment at the next state election. In the first place this referendum would be merely an indication of the sentiments of those persons who cared to express themselves in this manner and would carry no definite instruction to the members of Congress from this state. In the second place, whether justified or not, the vote on this measure, was believed to indicate the wet and the dry sentiment of the Legislature. With this suggestion in mind, it may be of interest to look at the vote in this city on two previous referenda which were really worth while. In 1922, on the bill to commit the state to the enforcement of the Volstead act, Newton cast 7795 votes in favor and 5818 against. In 1924 on the so called Baby Volstead act, Newton voted, 10,767 Yes and 6287 No. From these figures it is evident that any Newton ropresentative who votes for a "wet" measure does not correctly express the sentiment of this city.

In addition to the prohibition side of this bill, we also call attention to the fact that the affirmative side of this question was supported by practically every Democrat in the House. Our representatives were elected as Republican, and any coalition with the Democratic party to create dissension in Republican ranks, and we have no doubt but what the Democratic leaders are chortling in their sleeves over the division that the vote on this proposed referendum has already created.

We congratulate Representative Luitwieler on his attitude on this bill.

We congratulate Representative Luitwieler on his attitude on this bill, as being right from both a prohibition and a party standpoint.

We are glad to note and fully expected the attitude of Newton representatives on the Sunday sports bill. This measure was clearly in the interests of cemmercialism and would open the doors wide for further descration of the Sabbath.

While the traffic situation in Non-antum square has been confusion it-self this past week, we believe that experiments of this nature ought to be given a fair trial before being wholly condemned.

"The Truth about the Philippine "The Truth about the Philippines" was the subject of an address last night by James T. Williams, Jr., at the monthly meeting of the Men's club of West Newton, held in the Unitarian parish house. Mr. Clifton H. Dwinnell presided and previous to Mr. Williams' address Mr. William T. Mr. Williams stated in opening that he went to the Philippines last summer as a special writer for the Hearst's service of international affairs with untrammelled instructions to get at service of international affairs with untrammelled instructions to get at the truth of the situation in the Islands. He passed rapidly over some of the statistics of the Islands saying there were 3000 of them in an area about equal to New England, New York and New Jersey, with some 12,000,000 population, of which 11,000,000 were Christians. There were 50,000 Chinese who handled about 75% of the mercantile business of the country. Mr. Williams paid a high tribute to John W. Weeks, who while Secretary of War had made wise decisions affecting the government of the Islands. He also eulogized the work being done by Gov. General Leonard Wood, whom he said was regarded with great affection outside the little group which were endeavoring to exploit the Islands was for their own benefit.

In Mr. Williams' opinion the trouble in the Islands was due to a small Legislative group which had obtained control of many executive functions, and were making the Gov. General, who should be the supreme executive authority under the constitution, a mere figure head. General Wood had, during the past five years, made rapid strides towards reinstating the executive authority, through legal decisions by the War Department and the Department of Justice.

Mr. Williams urged support of the President in the attempts he had been making the past three years to perfect the law under which the Islands were governed.

new conditions at Newton Corner, parallel parking is necessary at certain places. Alderman Earle agreed with him. Alderman Hodgon, Harry Brondy and others differed and argued that to permit autos to park at an angiel will afford room for many more cars be less dangerous because at will be easier to operate the cars in and out of the parking spaces, and that no actidents have occurred at Newton Corner because of the present method out of the parking spaces with white paint, the parking spaces with white paint, the parking spaces with white paint, the parking problem at Newton Corner would be simplified. It is expected a compromise will be effected.

The elimination of the rule compelling autos to make a tour around the Trust Company building is receiving much favorable comment. It prevents the confusion and embarrassment to out-of-town autoists, many of whom were reprimanded and fined because of the old traffic rule. It causes autos to cross only one line of pedestrian traffic instead of four lines, as formerly. Yet there are some who criticise the change. Some people find fault because they now must look two directions when crossing Washington street in front of the postoffice. It is necessary now to look both ways when crossing washington street in front of the postoffice. It is necessary now to look both ways when crossing almost every highway, so this objection is rather weak.

Those who are still worried about the younger generation should attend to the following story, which I assure to the following story, which I assure them is literally true. Not long ago an undergraduate told me that he personally did not like to drink, and did not drink except when home on vacations. "Even there,' he said, "I do not really want to drink, But what shall I do? I can't bear to hurt father's feelings."—Scribner's Magazine.

The greatest hit of the evening was the singing of Signor Giuseppi Barsotti, guest tenor of the La Scala Opera Co. of Philadelphia. 58 hours a week, and frequently more hours than this. Wages there are low er. It can be seen that under such conditions, Massachusetts mills can conditions, Massachusetts mills can-not compete. Southern communities offer many inducements to manufacturers to establish mills there. Taxes are waived for a period of years. Even financial subsidies are given in some cases. There are many who say "Rather then repeal the 48 hour law for women and children, it is better that women and children, it is better that the cotton mills move to the South." Perhaps these persons are right. But in the meantime the lack of work in such textile centres as Fall River, New Bedford, Lowell, Lawrence and other places has occasioned much suffering. Other industries must be established to furnish employment for those formerly engaged in the cotton mills, if Massachusetts is to remain prosperous.

Fifty years ago the subject of temperance was engaging the attention of some of the best citizens of Newton and the result of their desire to help young men in this direction brought about the organization of The Newton Young Men's Christian Association.

On October 16, 1877, there gathered in Eliot Lower Hall representatives of the several Churches who after careful consideration voted, "that it is expedient to now organize a Young Men's Christian Association."

The following gentlemen were present and spoke upon the subject: Charles W. Bassett, A. I. Benyon, Henry E. Cobb, George C. Dunne, George S. Harwood, Dr. D. G. Harrington, William H. Partridge, Moses H. Sargent, Daniel E. Snow, George S. Trowbridge, and W. O. Trowbridge.

A Committee consisting of D. Fletcher Barber, Chairman, Henry Bates, A. I. Benyon, E. W. Cate, H. W. Downs, George C. Dunne, Reuben Forknall, G. S. Harwood, Daniel E. Snow, and George S. Trowbridge, was appointed to draft a Constitution which was adopted on October 23rd, 1877.

The first Article of this Constitution now nearly fifty years old reads as follows: "The Name of this Society shall be The Newton Young-Men's Christian Association and its object shall be to promote growth in grace and Christian fellowship among its members, and aggressive Christian work especially by and for young mittee which drew un this Constitution the promote which drew which drew un this Constitution constitution on the Committee which drew un this Constitution the promote growth of the Month of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the promote growth of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the promote growth of the Month of the Committee which drew un this Constitution that the constitution of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the constitution of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the constitution of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the constitution of the Committee which drew un this Constitution the constitution that the constitution that the consti

ANNUAL MEETING

Waban Improvement Society Meets

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Improvement Society was held in the Angler School Hall, on Thursday evening, March 10, with the president, Mr. William C. Holbrook in the chair. Mr. Holbrook stated that the Waban Branch Library is entirely inadequate, and that the community should, in the near future, raise from $30,000 to $35,000 for a new building. A site, in the triangle, at the intersection of Chestnut street, Woodward street and Pine Ridge road can be bought at a reasonable price.

A free discussion followed as to the desirability of having a bus service for Waban pupils, attending school in West Newton or Newton-ville and it was the unanimous wish of those present that busses should be provided next fall to carry pupils to the Junior High School and that additional busses should be provided for High School pupils.

additional busses should be provided for High School pupils.

New officers elected for next year are: secretary, Sydney A. Clark; treasurer, Clarence H. Day; member of the executive committee, Mrs. William G. Brown.

The president then called on representatives of seven of the village organizations to tell of their work. The first speaker was Mr. George N. Roberts, president of the Neighborhood Club, which at the age of 10 years is and always has been in a sound financial condition. It provides many facilities for the social life of its members. There are 14 or 15 vacancies on its membership list, which Mr. Roberts would like to see filled. The Waban Woman's Club was represented by one of its ex-presidents, I Mrs. L. W. Arnold. The club is 31 s years old, has a membership of 350 t and a waiting list of 50. With its regular bi-monthly meetings, its many outside classes and its philanthropies, the Club plays an important part in the life of the village.

The case for the Girl Scouts, of whom there are 110 in Waban, was presented by Mrs. James R. Warren, captain of the Senior Troop. Mrs. Warren appealed to the community for backing and for leaders for additional troops which might be formed.

Mr. Sanford Bates, in speaking for the Boy Scouts, paid tribute to Mr. a John M. Bierer, as "the man who stuck his finger in the dyke," when at a critical time he assumed leadership of Troop X.

Mrs. H. S. Kimball, president of the Women's Association of the Union Church, spoke briefly of the regular work of that organization and of the special task it has entered on this year in its effort to raise $10,000 for a new organ for the enlarged church.

John Delane, the president of the Young People's Forum, showed the value of their meetings as a training ground for embryo speakers.

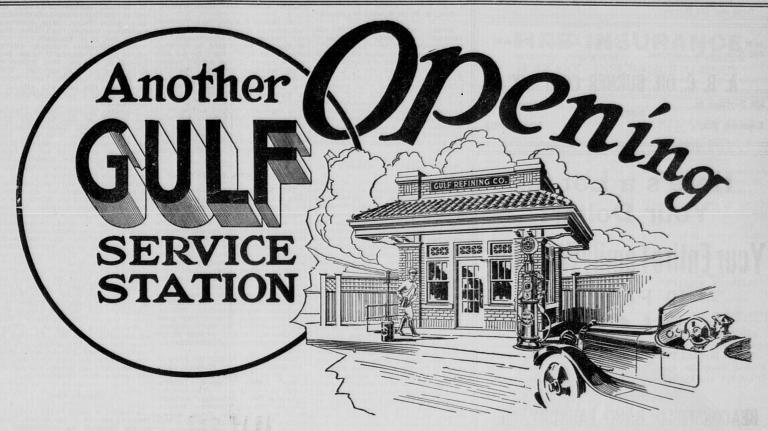

Rev. Joseph A. MacDonald spoke of the appeal which the Union Church has for those who are looking for the less formal type of religious service and said that his church is here to serve the community in any possible way.

various committees and departments of the city government.

In conclusion, Mr. Holbrook spoke of the devoted work of the officers of the Improvement Society and of the number of things they have found it possible to accomplish because of the co-operation of City Hall.

McLaughlin, the treasurer, as chairman of the evening, will present this program that is being so eagerly anticipated, as Miss Kerr's talent is well-known and appreciated in this section of the city.

It hardly seems possible that the two months that in January seemed so long before another Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Federation have slipped away, and the call goes out for Tuesday, March 22nd, at the Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, at 2:30 o'clock. Delegates are urged to be present, and all interested Clubwomen are invited. At three o'clock, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, chairman of Education, will once more score in securing for her organization a most distinctive program, when she will present Mr. Hermann, chairman of the Playground Commission, who will speak on "Apparatus Suitable for the Pre-School Child." Mr. Hermann will bring some of this apparatus, and this will be of intense interest to mothers of young children to see what it is possible for them to supply for the enjoyment and benefit of their lively youngsters.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, the 24th, the Newton Community Club will hear a lecture by Bhaskar Pandurang Hivale, entitled: "An Indian Tale of Jungle Land." Mr. Hivale is a graduate of the University of Bombay, and of Andover Theological Seminary, and is indeed an interpreter of new and modern India. He is said to have a brilliant mind, an attractive personality, and an outlook of broad gauge; that he had travelled extensively in the Orient, in Europe and America, and, given these qualities, and advantages, he should be able to present his country with a sympathetic and enter-

So that when this lecture is announced as for children and near-children—since it will be illustrated by colored lantern slides—and is called to members' attention that as "Children's Day," their youthful members of the family will be welcome, it will not be wondered at that even staid Club members are willing to be classified by this latter title.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Self-preservation, we are told, is the first law of nature. In these days it is even more—it is a science. Each one of us is becoming more and more expert in dodging and side-stepping—not metaphorically but literally. It cannot be sald that we have yet acquired any great amount of grace but we are certainly learning to move faster in pursuit of safety.

Not long ago in this column I suggested that in crossing the street where there happens to be no traffic policeman, it is well to keep an eye on the movements of approaching vehicles. I still believe it is good business to watch the front wheels and see which way the car is about to turn. I haven't heard anybody say that was a poor theory.

But it does not apply to the cross-that was a poor theory.

But it does not apply to the crossing where stands a traffic officer. The pedestrian's eye should be fixed on the policeman. I have that on authority of one of the most efficient and one of the best-natured officers I have ever seen assigned to crossing duty. He, by the way, is a Newton policeman, which is lucky for us as citizens.

duty. He, by the way, is a Newton policeman, which is lucky for us as citizens.

It appears that the adults are less inclined to do the officer's bidding than are the youngsters. The latter approach, pause on the curbing and wait for the signal. Possibly their caution is natural or it may be that they have been warned so often at home and at school. At any rate they look to the traffic policeman and promptly obey his signals.

Adults, however, are much more apt to gaze up and down the street, or at the other side. Anywhere, in fact, except in the direction of the policeman. Of course there are those who watch for the wave of the policeman's hand, but most people, it seems, are less definite in their gazing.

This fact hampers the work of the officer, who is supposed to "keep traffic moving." If he doesn't, he isn't a good man for the job. Since the problem of traffic is one that concerns pedestrians quite as much, if not more so, than drivers, it would be well if there was a wider display of the spirit of co-operation. Remember, the traffic policeman has his eye on you, so what could be fairer than you keep your eye on him.

If, as has been suggested, there should be a modification of the building laws to permit the contruction of family apartment houses in sections of our city, would there be serious objections? Probably there would. May not such objection be overcome, not by force and main strength, but by an intelligent discussion of the situation by all parties? I believe it may.

At first thought it no doubt appears in some minds that if the bars are let down there will be a rush of builders determined to construct great, towering buildings of red brick that would prove an architectural blot and nothing else on our otherwise attractive city. Personally, I have no such fear. Investors are not putting their money into enterprises unless pretty well convinced of a profitable return on funds so invested.

I can understand the point of view of those who tremble to think we may become a city of apartment houses. It would be offensive, I admit, if there was a general invasion of the districts that are now occupied by or those with themselves of the districts that are now occupied by single family residences of more than usual attractiveness. Furthermore, I should not look upon any such scheme with approval. I do not wish to see the beauty of the landscape rulned At the same time I am convinced that there are many people who would like to continue their residence in Newton but who prefer to occupy a small apartment rather than a large house. Many families find themselves in this position for the reason that "the children have grown up, married and moved away." Other causes, too, place them in the position of desiring smaller quarters. These circumstances are perfectly natural and should be appreciated.

Should such people be told that they must move themselves to some adjoining city or town where there are "double houses" or "plenty of apartment buildings?" I question the justice of such reasoning. In my opinion the growth of the city is proved in each village by the additional number of business blocks. Stores are not opened unless their owners believe they will receive a large and paying patronage.

Is not the solution of the housing problem to be found in an extension of the village centers? Bordering on what is now called the "village" in each of the "Newtons" are lots occupied by large dwellings. I have in mind more than one piece of property which is lying idle on the owner's hands for the reason that the restrictions are such that he cannot dispose of his place except to somebody who wants to occupy a large dwelling. The day of big houses has not passed entirely and yet we find many people loath to occupy them for the very reason "they are too much care." That means that the householder does not wish to assume the task of keeping a large place in order when he would be as well off, and happier, with a smaller place.

But who wants to have a bungalow within a short walk of the village? The proposition with land values so high is entirely too costly. There can be no criticism of the apartment buildings now standing. The owners and occupants are among the very best of our citizens and it is evident their desire is to contribute only to best standards of citizenship.

What I wish to emphasize more than anything else is the hope that there will be no bitter controversy over the matter. I cannot see that any good will be accomplished if the question becomes a wrangle among citizens, with City Hall and the Board of Aldermen the center of the combat. In my opinion there is no just reason that apartment buildings may not be built in some sections where now they are forbidden. On the other hand I should be the first to protest at any attempt apartment buildings may not be built in some sections where now they are forbidden. On the other hand I should be the first to protest at any attempt to make Newton "a boom town" for "cliff-dwellers."

Let this matter be approached with intelligence and not in the spirit of a "free for all." Newton cannot afford a "scrap" of this character. It leaves too many wounds and accomplishes nothing.

I have it on the word of a very good friend that while standing in Nonantum Square on Sunday morning he observed a young woman driving a car and at the same time smoking a nifty little briar pipe. This is a new one on me. She seemed quite unconcerned, he tells me, and the staring eyes that greeted her caused her no embarrassment whatsoever. The only thing that occurs to me is the question, "Where does she carry her matches?" Every year, in some guise or other, comes the proposition for the annexation of Newton to Boston. It is a chedit to the ingenuity and resource-fulness of the residents of Boston who favor the scheme that they are able to think up new ways of getting the matter before the public. For many years they used to put forward a straightaway petition to the Legislature. It was usually thrown out of the window as soon as it reached the floor of the House. Of course it deserved to be.

Now we see another great idea. A floor of the House. Of course it deserved to be.

Now we see another great idea. A conference of representatives of Boston and adjoining municipalities. Called by whom? Not by Newton or Watham or Somerville or Belmont or Winthrop. No, indeed, but by Boston—the municipality which would derive the chief and only benefit the scheme can produce. Just another way of trying to 'hook in' the cities which have many wealthy residents and whose tax payments would help swell Boston's treasury.

I have no objection to the politicians in Boston plotting as much as they like to gobble up Newton and other surrounding places. They have excellent reasons. But they should not assume that the people of other cities are simpletons who are to be lured into a trap from which there is no possible escape.

The Newton Aldermen, I observe, felt compiled to geent the invitation. recognition of that fact in his obituary notices.

On the other hand I think that it would not be difficult to assemble those who carry fountain pens and forget to refill them. I am thinking of starting such an organization. The membership should be large and include our most influential men and women. We might call it "The Society of Fountain Pen Forgetters." In order to make it convenient, application blanks for membership could be filled out in lead pencil.

The Newton Aldermen, I observe, felt comelled to accept the invitation to attend a conference of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan district. Why they have done so I fall to see. The invitation could have been "placed on file" as are many much more worthy documents. But our city fathers not only "fell" for the first invitation but also a second. I have no idea how many "conferences" are to be held but I suppose they will be continued until the Boston crowd gets what it is after or finds that it is useless to proceed further.

No doubt there was a feeling at Mrs. Mary Jane (Thomas) Puffer, for forty-five years a resident of West Newton, died Monday afternoon at the home of her son, Frederick E. Puffer, in Newark, N. J. Mrs. Puffer, who was a Mayflower descendant through seven direct lines, was born on Dec. 23, 1838, in Bangor, Me. She married Dexter R. Puffer of Boston in 1859, and a few years later established with him the home in West Newton, where she lived until 1923.

Mrs. Puffer was an active worker in

There is nothing like the forehanded individual. Every day he demonstrates in some way or another how superior one can be by thinking ahead of the other fellow. It is a gift—this beating the other guy to it. Such a person has reason to be proud and for that matter is the only one entitled to carry a fountain pen. A man who can live his life without experiencing the embarrassment of finding his fountain pen without ink at a critical moment should receive public recognition of that fact in his obituary notices.

Is useless to proceed further.

No doubt there was a feeling at City Hall that as long as Boston had condescended to invite Newton to attend, appreciation of this high honor should be shown. Having a small idea of how much matters are "put through" I am forced to smile. Maybe I will be told that to decline to attend the conference would be an act of discourteous than to interrupt a man endiscourteous than to interrupt a man element of the Alliance. Newton and a member of the Alliance. Newton and a member of the Alliance. Newton free Library, will be open every week day (except holidays) courtesy. There is a way for Clubwomen to keep the beauty of forest, field, and garden, if they will but take it up. It has been done before in other districts, and we can now—before these tender shoots come bravely forth—save them for a wonderful bloom and life. "Many townships have been freed from the ravages of moth and caterpillars by enlisting the aid of school children," so says Mrs. Myron Davis, Conservation chairman of the State Federation. "Interested Clubwomen" (will your Club come under that head, or under another less complimentary, UNinterested) "raise funds which defray the expense of moth collections. When a pupil brings to his school teacher 100 caterpillar homes to be destroyed, he is given a stipulated sum for his work. Many thousand homes of this pest are gathered by the armies of school children working to save the wayside trees and their beauty."

There are likewise garden pests sumbering among the neglected debris of last year's gardens, which owners have even yet failed to despatch. Now should fire and the swort. Iterally be sent abroad, so that the garden owner and all his innocen. neighbors be permitted to enjoy th

CHORAL CONCERT

Newton Choral Society to Give 15th

The 15th concert of the Newton Choral Society will be given in the new high school auditorium Tuesday evening, April 5. The society is very fortunate in having as its soloist Mr. Joseph Lautner, one of the most popular tenor singers of New England. The Boston Transcript would be generally accepted as a high authority in the field of musical criticism, and that newspaper speaks as follows of Mr. Lautner's work: "Mr. Lautner, as is his wont in these days of growing popularity, captured the enthusiasm of his listeners. The fluency and flexibility of his voice rounded the Wagnerian phrases. Clear cut enunciation sharpened the mood of the text. Tonal color and brilliance warmed the whole. As encore, itself encored in turn, Franck's "Panis Angelicus" was the singer's choice. To hear Mr Lautner sing music as different as the Wagner and the Franck was the gain a definite clue to his musical progress. This tenor it seems, has a mind to match a voice."

mind to match a voice."

The main feature of the society's program will be the colorful and romantic "Hfawatha's Wedding Feast," by Coleridge-Taylor. It will also present the marvelously beautiful choral number "Homage to Spring," by Mr. Gericke, the former conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra. The so-

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Alderman John Madden, Chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, has been the recipient during the past week of a number of telephone calls from indignant citizens who were misinformed as to his attitude on the question of apartment buildings i Newton. Had these persons read last week's Graphic, they would not have misunderstood Mr. Madden's views on this important question, as the remarks he made concerning this matter at the meeting of the Newton Corners Business Associates were correctly quoted in the March 11th issue of the Graphic.

Mr. Madden stated at the meeting referred to "that he favors the creation of special zones for apartment houses, such as on certain designated streets, or parts of certain streets," He contended that if the zoning law remains as at present, and the building code is changed so that apartment buildings of second-class construction can be built, petitions will immediately start to come in for permits to erect apartment buildings in all parts of the general residence zones. The furore that such petitions would arouse would make the real or alleged opposition to gasoline filling stations seem tame by comparison. Mr. Madden believes that apartment buildings should be restricted to certain areas, so that all parts of general residence districts would not be invaded by them. He believes such buildings should be restricted to certain parts of our general residence zones are estates owned by old residents of Newton, who desire that their neighborhoods will maintain their present character. These people do not wish to have large apartment buildings erected up against their property. They do not wish to be deprived of the air, light and views to which they have long been accustomed. They are as much entitled to protection as those persons who reside in the single residence zones. Newton has always been known as a high-class residential community. If we allow apartment buildings to be erected by the wholesale throughout its general residence districts, the c

He told the business men at the meeting "that if apartment houses will be erected in large numbers in Newton, that the business zones in this city will have to be extended, which will mean more stores, and more competition for the merchants now doing business here." He also stated "that many apartment bulldings will mean more schools, more stated "that many apartment build-ings will mean more schools, more fire apparatus, larger city expenses, and more taxes." He is not opposed to a reasonable number of apartments to furnish necessary housing facili-ties for the normal increase in popu-lation of Newton. houses have been changed into twofamily residences. Others are on the market at much less than their assessed values. Business has encroached into districts that formerly were exclusively residential. Because of the prohibitive restrictions in the building code, about the only developments possible in the business zones of Newton have been either onestory business blocks or garages. The proponents of apartment house development argue that attractive apartment buildings will be far more destrable in a neighborhood than blocks of stores, or garages. They also argue that the city will derive much more tax revenue from apartment buildings or garages. They point to the fact that former residents of Newton have been forced to leave the city because of their inability to rent apartments in Newton. It seems more than probable that the aldermen will change Work

This is a pioneer year, in a way, for the Newton Young Women's Christian Association. Heretofore it has been associated with the Boston Association in its financial arrangements, although the work carried on has been exclusively for Newton and Watertown. This year it is testing the good will and desire of the residents of Newton to have the kind of service that the Y. W. C. A. is able to offer the girls and women of the city. Does Newton want its girls provided for, does it want the same opportunities open to girls, as the boys and young men of this city enjoy?

The answer to this question will be Newton. It seems more than probable that the aldermen will change this city enjoy?

The answer to this question will be the amount of support given by the citizens of Newton to this organization to enable it to carry on its work. With all the good will in the world, money must also be forthcoming to enable the Y. W. to carry out its plans of a central organization, with extension work in the various village centers through clubs organized in each Newton.

Do you say there is no need for an able that the aldermen will change the building code so that apartments may be built of second-class construc-tion. The question will then arise, "Where in Newton will apartment buildings be allowed?" We believe that this question will be settled amicably to the satisfaction of all fair-minded and unselfish citizens.

ALDERMEN MEET

The aldermen contributed considerable time to the service of the city on Monday. Most of their deliberations were in committee, comparatively little business being transacted at the regular meeting. Little of importance occurred at the "open meeting." on Monday night.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for six pole locations on Bigelow road, West Newton, northerly from Valentine street, As protests had been received against this petition from James W. Gibson, Edward Page, Louis Chase and others, a representative of the Telephone Company, who was present, told the aldermen that his employers would waive the hearing as another proposition is being considered.

Frank Croft, appearing for Merrill C. Nutting, asked for a permit for a 500 gallon gasoline storage tank and pump at 23 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill; said tank and pump to be for private use. A letter of protest was received from Harry B. Knowles, who objected to gasoline being sold from this proposed pump.

When the hearing was called on the petition of the Riverside Paint and Varnish Company for a permit to store and use inflammable liquids in connection with their factory on Rumford avenue, Ward 4, a distinguished advocate appeared for the petitioners in the person of Wesley M. Monk of Watertown, State Insurance Commissioner. Mr. Monk explained that he is not interested in the paint concern as an autorney, merely as a friend; he is related to one of the owners of the concern. He told the aldermen that the petitioners desire to erect four tanks near the corner of Rumford avenue and Riverview street. These tanks will hold 15,000 gallons of kerosene, naphtha and other petroleum products to be used as solvents for the paint and varnish. Also the petitioners asked to be allowed to store turpentine and denatured alcohol in steel drums within their building, which will be one story high, 60 feet wide, and 300 feet long. According to Mr. Monk, the inflamable liquids to be stored,

GIRL SCOUTS

Planning a Moving Picture Show for Next Month

Tickets are selling fast for the Newton Girl Scouts Officers' moving pleture party for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, on April 10th, at 10 A. M. In fact the demand is threatening to exceed the supply. Harold Lloyd in the "Freshman" is the feature picture, with an Aesop Fable, an Our Gang Comedy and a Pathe News reel as added attractions. In the "Freshman," Harold Lloyd has taken a very serious idea, and without in the least belittling the subject has gotten a tremendous lot of fun out of it; and without preaching, has put over a lesson. gotten a tremendous lot of fun out of it; and without preaching, has put over a lesson. Harold Lamb, the hero of the picture, is a pathetic figure, so that while you laugh at him you are filled with sympathy for him, and when he finally triumphs you want to join the whole college in cheering for him. The "Freshman" will be shown at the Community Theatre. Tickets may be bought from any girl scout and will also be on sale at the door. On Saturday, April 2nd, the annual competitive rally of the Newton Girl Scouts will be held at the new gymnasium of the High School at 2:30 P. M. All Boys and Girl Scouts in the city are invited, and tickets are given to all citizens interested in Girl Scouting. Bleachers seating 1200 people will be erected on the floor to care for the large audience that is expected to be present. There will be separate competitions for Senior and Junior troops, the Juniors competing in knot tying and table setting, and the Seniors in Morse Code signalling and drumming for the Newton championship. The winners of this competition will enter the try out for the State championship in May.

On Saturday evening, March 19th, the moving picture of the Pony Express was shown in Waban at the Angier School, by Senior Troop No. 14, for the benefit of the "Old Ironsides" fund. This troop has been selling pictures of the old ship during the winter and has raised about 150 dollars, which sum they hope to present to Admiral Andrews in person. The end of this campaign will be a relief to those friends and neighbors who have been inquiring if the girls had ambitions to purchase the frigate outright.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

All too many persons are being killed by motor cars. The death list from this cause has become appalling. Public officials who are endeavoring to lessen automobile fatalities deserve Public officials who are endeavoring to lessen automobile fatalities deserve unstinted praise. We therefore applaud Chief of Police Burke for his efforts to make Newton Corner, this city's most congested traffic district, safe for pedestrians and autoists. But, we believe that the Chief is overcautious. Recently the traffic rules governing Nonantum square were changed. That ridiculous rule which compelled automobiles to make a circuit around the bank building was abolished. In making plans to abolish this rule the Chief ordered that the electric cars of the Middlesex & Boston street railway stop 60 feet from the end of the car tracks at Nonantum square. To give passengers free access to the east sidewalk on Centre street. The storekeepers in that section protested so vigorously that the Chief rescinded these orders. The cars of the M. & B. went back to their regular terminal, or within a few feet of it. It has been found that automobiles can safely make the left turn towards Brighton even with the electric cars in their old terminal position. But the Chief did not allow autos to park as of yore along Centre street.

blies can sately towards Brighton even with the electric cars in their old terminal position.

But the Chief did not allow autos to park as of yore along Centre street. Instead of parking at an angle to the curb, according to the new rule motor cars must park parallel with the curb. In the first place this allows but about one-third as many cars to park. This is a serious handicap to the storekeepers. They are paying very high rents and need what little parking facilities that exist at Newton Corner to hold the trade they have been obtaining. A more serious objection to parallel parking is the great difficulty experienced in edging motor cars into vacant spaces, and in trying to squeeze them out again. We have tried to perform these stunts and know that either "it can't be done," or that while doing it (provided it can be done) traffic is tied up and collisions invited. Many fenders, radiators and other parts of automobiles have been broken and dented by autoists endeavoring to work their cars out of spaces where parallel parking prevails. We would like to see the Chief trying to steer his car into a vacant parking space parallel to the curb with just about enough room to

More than forty merchants—co-operated in putting over the big event and in making it one that established new sales records in that section of the city. Twenty-two of these merchants joined in the half-hour special sales event. While this innovation made a pronounced hit with the Dollar Day shoppers—and proved eminently satisfactory to the merchants, as a publicity stunt and magnet for new customers—it was the steady business which practically every store enjoyed during the greater part of the day and evening that was chiefly responsible for the gratifying success of the Dollar Day as a whole.

The special window displays were of the eye-compelling and trade-pulling type and exerted no little influence on the interest of the buying public.

Captain Merrill is counted upon to score points in the 50-yard event and may get into the point-division in the century. Lodge, Soule, Green, and Essen are also capable of picking up a few added points in their favorite events. The relay team has been beaten by Brookline, Exeter and Huntington and the orange and black mermen are hoping to avenge the Brookline defeat by walking off with first in the relay event tomorrow.

Medals will be awarded the first three swimmers to place in each event and the Meehan trophy will go to the school scoring the greatest number of points for one year. Each school is limited to two entries in each event and one man may compete in but two events in addition to the relay.

baseball practice of the 1927 season.
About 20 men reported to Coach through a long batting drill, and a little infield practice. All the regulars of the last year's nine reported in good condition with "Jakey" Pass and "Letty" Schleiparka, of the pitching staff considerably heavier than they were last year. With this added weight both should have a good season.

Among the new men from whom much to play their first game in about three season of the City Twilight League in May.

Rather than imprison for very long terms felons who commit certain crimes, Mr. Ramsay would give them considerably shorter terms plus a flogging. It would also save the taxpayers from supporting for long periods of years criminals of a certain type; hardened thugs who sneer at jail sentences but who cringe and beg for mercy when sentenced to be flogged.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

If you insist I make a choice,
And that without delay,
'Twixt trolley car and motor bus
To travel on my way,
I shalf not hesitate at all,
But give a prompt reply,
And gladly tell my loving friends
A splendid reason why,
The bus is new, I'll grant you that,
It moves at greater speed,
The trolley, though, has that which fills
A far more urgent need

fills
A far more urgent need,
For in the car you'll find this true,
As o'er the rails you hum,
While seldom are there seats enough,
There's always lots of gum.

Much has been written about the people who insist on talking during the progress of a theatre performance or a concert. If my memory is not at fault women are declared to be the worst offenders. Mark you, I am not saying that they are, but I know the joke-makers and the cartoonists are apt to lay stress on what they assert is a feminine weakness. It makes for mirth and and I have heard only a few women resent the charge. Those who have, displayed considerable vehemence.

Whoever heard of two men gabbing their heads off at the theatre? Well, I did and although I blush to admit it I feel that in justice to the fair sex I should publish the truth. I saw two men who whispered to each other constantly, much to the annoyance of those in that section of the theatre.

And these men each had gray hairs and plenty of them so that we cannot say lightly that they were young and thoughtless. That little excuse is still good for the youth of today, though in my opinion it is overworked considerable. But the offenders I observed were men of middle-life. And how they did chatter! Goodness knows what they found to talk about, but nevertheless their tongues were constantly wagging.

Now that I have tried to point out what they found to talk about, but nevertheless their tongues were constantly wangging.

Now that I have tried to point out that women should not be held up to ridicule any more than men for this breach of the peace I would go further. I believe that it is a practice that neither women or men should indulge in. If people go to the theatre to talk, why do they buy the best seats and there establish themselves for a gabfest? Why not a dinner at a popular restaurant? Of course it is hard to lift one's voice and make it heard above the tumult of a jazz band, but there are eating places where no music is played Such a spot can be readily found, if I mistake not, the proprietor is not compelled to charge 40 cents for a baked potato in order to pay the salary of the saxophone-player.

I dislike to be a grouch but you now that sometimes it is just as well people comment sharply on this It is like to be a grouch but you know that sometimes it is just as well if people comment sharply on this or that. In that way they can make themselves understood whereast to say nothing and "let things silde" accomplishes little. The spirit of mischief, which is abroad at this time, is far from funny, as I view it. There is too much freedom permitted the half-grown men whose depredations are becoming annoying if nothing more.

The other evening a friend of min left his car in front of a house where he spent about an hour in a social call. He had observed all city ordnances as regards parking and hadevery reason to suppose that in return he would receive such protection as the city is expected to provide its citizens. But when he came out of the house the cap of the radiator had been stolen. Now here was a deliberate theft and a foolish one. Of what use could the hilfe make of a radiator cap? And what a loss to the owner of the car. It is true, as those well-meaning prison reform enthusiasts tell us, the life make of a radiator cap? And what a loss to the owner of the car. It is true, as those well-meaning prison reform enthusiasts tell us, the life if people is a ground in a social of automobile has provided new motives for crime. Stealing radiator caps is one. A lark, no doubt, and provocative of as much mirth as stoning a passenger train from the top of the radirous of for Newton, one for Newton, one for Newton, one for Newton Context, and the usual time, the fourth Sunday of May.

It is true, as those well-meaning prison reform enthusiasts tell us, the life in several ways. It will also make for a much bear the usual time, the fourth Sunday of May.

The soft-hearted and soft-headed folks will tell us that such things are merely boyish pranks. The victim of such an experience may hardly expect more than a hearty laugh when he describes his troubles. The police have plenty to do and seem to think that "chasing boys" is hardly dignified. And yet something must be done.

There is only one way, and that is a public demand that these misdemeanors be prosecuted with as much vigor as are violation of traffic rules and other trifling offences. It may be true that "boys will be boys" but it should be equally true that boys who do not know any better should be prevented from creating trouble for other people.

While seldom are there seats enough. While seldom are there seats enough. There's always lots of gum.

Everywhere there are those who are seeking for signs of Spring. It is poetic, the thought of the seat of budding trees, twittering bear of the city's annual budget, remiself in flights of fancy and seek to have somebody print their effusions, may be forgiven. In fact, most of us feel so good about it we are glad to condone almost anything.

There was a time, not so very long ago, when the tiny volet was greeted with an estatic welcome as a harbinger of Springtide. Boys playing at marbles was another. Hoop-rolling by the youngsters a third. The beautiful flowers and the innocent joys of childhood stood for that which was to come. Nothing could be more engaging in prospect.

But now things are a bit different, it isn't the violet we look to but the violet-hued runabout, driven by the daughter of the little girl who more than a generation was the hunting the modest flowers in the shady delis. The daughter isn't interested in botany. On the contrary she is wondering, the has a bout the only connection.

The boys who used to find enjoyment in marbles complain there is no "kick" to be obtained in that pastime. Other games, not kiddish diversions, must provide them with opportunity to display their "pep" and get rid of their superfluous energies. As for hopprolling, that has passed out of the picture and something far more manly has taken its place.

Hunting for robins! There is a scent connected with the two thoughts but that's about the only connection.

The boys who used to find enjoyment in marbles complain there is no "kick" to be obtained in that pastime. Other same, and the provide them with opportunity to display their "pep" and get rid of the picture and something far more manly has taken its place.

And there you have it. There is no general movement. The man whose interests are not affected will be found "sitting pretty" while a bunch of people, all from the same neighborhood, are trying to convince the Boarda of Aldermen it should do this or shouldn't do that.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS Christian Era Study Club

"Cornwallis and Green in the South," is the topic of a paper to be given by Mrs. Edward T. Edmands for the Christian Era Study Club at its meeting on Monday, March 28th. Carrying forward the history of those stirring Revolutionary Days, and the career and activities of fated Cornwallis, Mrs. A. L. Billings, another Club member, will give a paper on "The Surrender of Cornwallis, 1782, and the Definite Treaty, 1783." The hostess for the Club for this meeting will be Mrs. Samuel W. Dike, of 113 Hancock street.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On the same date, the 28th, the Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet with Mrs. J. G. Birch, 72 Fisher avenue, to be entertained by two Club members, Mrs. Frank Frost, and Mrs. H. B. Mopkins, whose program for the afternoon has as the general topic "The Challenge of China." The social hour and "real party" that is a most delightful feature of this Club's meetings will bring to a close the afternoon.

Waban Woman's Club

March 28th spells for the Waban Woman's Club a most curiosity provok-ing and fascinating-sounding affair— namely a Vanity Fair, which is admit-ted, after a bit of teasing as to the nature of this delightful surprise on the part of the efficient and ingenious manager, Mrs. Walter A. Hesley, a past president, as the presentation of a Magazine of Living Pictures. It is to a Magazine of Living Pictures. It is to be "just what one would expect a magazine to be," yet with the thought that the poems, and play, the advertisements, and writeups are to be acted by Club members, the possibilities for cleverness, for personalities, and take offs, surely must exceed what we know a mere magazine to be. The Waban Woman's Club has certainly scored in their choice of programs for entertainment of their members this year!

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Newton Centre Woman's Club

At the close of the regular monthly business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, March 31st, the program for the afternoon is in the hands of the Education Committee, Mrs. Frederick M. Gibson, chairman. Sir John Adams, professor emeritus of the University of London, will address the Club on "Sherlock Holmes in Real Life." The topic promises thrills from the title indication.

The monthly Food Sale—always eagerly awaited and patronized by wise housewives, who believe life has to offer them other opportunities than just within the kitchen, in spite of the opinion of "knights of the shovel," who, while digging snow, spoke most disgustedly of the women attending the State midwinter meeting at Quincy—will be held on the same afternoon, the 31st, under the management of Mrs. Rollo S. Hudson.

Professor Clark L. Thayer is the speaker Monday morning, March 28th, in the Garden Course, and will take as his subject "Annuals for Cutting." These interesting garden lectures will be supplemented by a visit to some of the beautiful North Shore gardens, an outing that will prove not only pleasurable, but of value as portraying some of the points brought out in the Course. They will be a treat in themselves, and an inspiration, and Mrs. Charles Wood Bond who has arranged the Course and the visit has ably provided for her fellow members' instruction and enjoyment.

Tuesday, March 29th, has two desirable activities, the Furniture Painting Class, and the Public Speaking Class, both being in continuance of courses, these being morning lessons, at 10 o'clock.

Woman's Club on Wednesday, March 30th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Congregational Church. Although it is realized that the Club years are drawing to a close, and although the members are looking forward eagerly to their Spring Play, even this consolation will not still the regrets of bidding Mrs. Poole farewell.

There are only a few days left in which to purchase tickets for this Spring Play, "Erstwhile Susan," which is Spring Play, "Erstwhile Susan," which is being presented under Mrs. Sidney L. Shelley's able direction, and which is to be played by many of Newton's talented actors. It is hoped the Newton High School Auditorium will be well filled by 8:00 p. m. on Tuesday evening, March 29th. Tickets may be purchased at Quinlan's Drugstore.

The short story writers of the Club who are competing in the previously announced contest are reminded that their manuscripts are due before April 1st. Mrs. Decatur will receive them, and an impartial committee well judge the merits of each story. Of course the manuscripts must be unsigned. The writers' name should be put in an envelope which must be numbered like the manuscript.

Newton Federation Executive Board of the Art Committee, announced a trip to the Garden Museum for Tuesday afternoon, March 29th.

From the Benefit Shop comes the following plea. May Clubwomen—and others—heed it!

Let the Benefit Shop help you clean house this spring!

Let us take those curtains which you are about to replace, that couch you are putting up in attic, those dishes you will have to dust, but will never use, all those clothes which take so much time to pack away; let us sell them at the Benefit Shop to some body who needs them, and who wants to pay a little for goods and not accept charity. Then when the Hospital gets its next payment from the Shop's earnings you will have helped to swell the amount. We will send a truck for the things if you will call C. N. 1898-W, or you may leave them at the Benefit Shop, 895 Washington street, Newtonville, any Wednesday or Friday, between 19 and 4 o'clock or Saturday night between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Newton Centre Woman's Club Miss Eleanor Mason, whose charming miniatures made a choice feature of the art exhibition of the Newton Centre Woman's Club in the club house last week, chatted pleasantly one day about the visitors. Miss Ma house last week, chatted pleasantly one day about the visitors. Miss Mason was serving as custodian that day, for the pictures were far too valuable not to be well guarded all the time while they graced the walls of the art room, and Miss Mason was good enough to serve her turn. "Lave learned many things from the visitors' comments," she said, whereupon a listener said flippantly what many a better judge has said seriously before: "That water in the picture of that Medford pond actually looks wet." However, there were many gems on the walls, and not a single subject failed to give pleasure by its appeal of beauty or color. Frances Mallowe's Cape Cod sketches held one a long time, so delightfully true were they. A head of Mrs. Appleton's son, by M. W. Reed, was a beautiful thing, to be long remembered.

embered. Paxton's "Portrait of Wm. M. Paxton's "Portrait of a Young Girl," will also remain vividly in mind, because of its painstaking attention to detail of line and finish, in contrast to the impressionable canvasses on another wall. "An Old Road," by C. E. Dennison, ought to take Mr. Dennison far in painting other inviting things—for we understand that painting is his avocation rather than his vocation.

And seeing these lovely things gives so much of pleasure to so muchy different people, it is interesting to recall that the art room itself—tucked away in the upper front of the building—long and narrow, but only just long—and just—narrow enough to be well-propor-

STUDEBAKER is the original Second Term Candidate in the world of automobiles, and if you do not buy a New Studebaker you are safe in buying a Used one.

FINED FOR FLOODING STREET

Thomas Butler, Jr., of Norwood avenue, Newtonville, was fined $50 in court yesterday by Judge Bacon as a result of an accident which occurred a couple of weeks ago. In the early morning hours a car driven by Butler ran into a hydrant on Norwood avenue, and broke it. Butler did not report the accident and when the police discovered the broken hydrant, the street had become flooded with water. Butler's attorney told Judge Bacon that the defendant was injured when the crash occurred, and for that reason could not walk to Newton Corner to inform the police of the mishap.

The Community Service Club members met on Wednesday, the 23rd, in the Parish House of Second Church, for the Sewing meeting, and from 10:30 o'clock until 4:30, with the exclusion of the lunch period, sewed for the American Red Cross, giving time and effort in generous aid of this splendid patriotic service. At one o'clock tea and coffee were served, and later dessert and hungry "patriots" looked eagerly into box lunches—and certainly they had earned this hour of friendly chat and refreshment!

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

A few months ago we started to agitate concerning the apparent defiance of the Aldermen by the management of the Fuller Garage at West Newton Said defiance consisted in erecting outside gasoline pumps at the garage, at ter permission to do so had been refused by the Aldermen. Subsequently this matter was aired at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and still later the manager of the garage was hailed into court, found guilty, and fined. The night the matter was brought up at the aldermanic meeting, we were accused by a representative of a contemporary of giving undue attention to this affair. We were told "it had no news value." Our judgment seems, however, to have been vindicated. Our contemporary appears to have changed its estimate of the news value of the Fuller Garage controversy. In its issue of this week, it features this matter on the front page. The case is now awaiting a decision by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth. As we reported in detail on two former occasions, the arguments offered in this case by the prosecution, and by Mr. Ross, attorney for the Fuller Garage, we will refrain from again rehashing the matter.

The temporary traffic stand in Nonantum Square has sides of heavy cardboard on which are painted directions for autoists. When this stand was being prepared, one of the city painters did a good job putting directions on some canvas sides. But some malicious individual with a mean disposition, apparently, obtained access to these painted canvas sides in one of the buildings at the Street Department plant on Crafts street, and splashed them all over with paints of vivid hues.

The recent death of Clay Derby, who resided on the boundary of Newton and Watertown, on Watertown street, caused one old resident of this city to tell us of the time, 60 years ago, when an almost unbroken forest of pine trees extended from Mr. Derby's estate to West Newton. The thickly settled area of Nonantum, now in the vicinity of Middle and West streets, was covered largely by trees, and was known as "the woods." The coming of the mills to Nonantum caused a large influx of English and Irish millworkers to settle in that section, and the wooded areas quickly disappeared. Nearly 50 years ago a number of French-Canadwian families moved into Nonantum to work in the worsted mill. The worsted mill at Nonantum has for several years employed but com-The recent death of Clay Derby, who —Miss Florence Delorey, 28, of 85 Allison street, was badly injured last week when an automobile in which she was riding crashed into the bridge over the tracks of the N. Y., N. H. and H. raliroad on Massachusetts avenue, Boston. She was taken to the City Hospital in Boston.

—The location of an electric light pole on Thornton street has been giving the aldermen some concern. It was first proposed to put the pole on the edge of the sidewalk. This was objected to because such a location would prevent the passage of snowplows. Next it was proposed to put the pole at the outside of the sidewalk. This plan would cause the pole to offer a hazard to automobiles. Finally it was decided to put the pole where first proposed. Alderman Gallagher told his colleagues Monday night that the snowplows can be navigated through, according to the Street Department. Perhaps a rubber snowplow has been obtained.

FIRE RECORD

For over an hour Tuesday night, between nine and ten o'clock the city of Newton was without fire protection and the town of Watertown was largely without protection part of this time when most of the apparatus had come to Newton. Some persons of peculiar mentalities made a tour of a large part of this city in an automobile and pulled nine false alarms. The alarms kept coming in at intervals of a few minutes and all the apparatus in the city was kept chasing from one box to another. When Box 13 at Centre and Sargent streets was pulled, a combination truck and ladder from Watertown responded. The practice of pulling false alarms has become common in this city, as well as in adjoining communities of late. Roxbury and Waltham have been particularly bothered by this form of crime, but in no place was there such an exhibition of lawlessness in this respect as occurred in Newton, Tuesday night.
